

Troopers Asked to Probe 3 of 10 Fires American, Russian Held for Espionage

FBI Watch Kept for 7 Months Nabbed in Jersey After Rendezvous

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — FBI agents have capped seven months of a round-the-clock work with the arrests of an American electronics engineer, cleared to handle top secret material, and a Russian chauffeur on espionage charges.

They were arrested Tuesday night after a rendezvous near an old stone railroad station in Englewood.

Two Russian diplomats serving with the Soviet mission to the United Nations in New York City also were apprehended by the FBI but they were released because of their diplomatic immunity.

Data About Contract
Seized in the Russians' car were a brief case that contained information about a secret Air Force contract and a tiny document camera designed to operate from the car's cigarette lighter.

The accused spies, charged early today with "delivering to a foreign government information relating to the national defense of the United States," are John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City.

Of Russian Parentage
Butenko, a bachelor of Russian parentage, is a $14,700-a-year control administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus.

Ivanov, married and father of a 6-year-old daughter, was a chauffeur for AMTORG, a Soviet government-sponsored agency that handles U. S.-Russian trade relations. He came to this country in March 1962.

The two Russian diplomats were Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary of the Soviet U.N. mission and Gleb A. Pavlov, 39, an attaché of the mission.

Official Account
Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover gave this account of Tuesday night's cat-and-mouse activity:

FBI agents watched from the shadows as Butenko and the Russians met in the station parking lot and then strode away. The agents moved in, collar Butenko in his car and Pavlov and Ivanov in their automobile. Romashin was seized nearby, where he was posted as a lookout.

In Russian's Car
In the rear seat of the Russians' car was a briefcase that Butenko brought to the meeting, containing data relating to a "highly sensitive Air Force contract being handled by the International Electric Corporation." The document camera also was in the Russian car.

The first meeting of the accused conspirators occurred April 21 according to the FBI complaint, at a restaurant in Norwood, N.J. The first briefcase switch occurred shortly afterward on the side of a road in Closter.

Had Other Meetings
Similar meetings, involving an attaché case and brown leather briefcase, occurred on May 26 in the vicinity of Closter, on the following day at a parking lot in Fort Lee, and on Sept. 24 between Paramus and Teaneck, the FBI said.

The suspected Butenko has worked for International Electric since March 1960.

30-Million Take In Gambling Laid To Corrupt Cops

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Investigation Commission has concluded that $30 million - a - year gambling operations flourished in Westchester County because of police corruption.

Commission Chairman Goodman A. Sarachan made the statement Tuesday in winding up 11 days of public hearings by his agency. He said gambling existed in the county "with the knowledge and protection" of local police departments.

Sarachan cited instances of: Police tipoffs to gamblers of impending raids.

Disturb by honest policemen toward other members of their departments.

The arrest of small-fry gamblers.

6-Year Problem Cost Is $2,500: Schwenk

Mayor John J. Schwenk's reply today to criticism by Alderman William G. Davis (D-L) 13th Ward, who Tuesday cited lack of repair of a Wilbur Avenue incinerator, notes that cost of the project is now estimated at upwards of $2,500 and not the $525 mentioned by Davis.

Charge Dismissed Against Teacher In Assault Case

A third degree assault charge against Walter Jones, 22, of Box 218-A, RD 4, Kingston, local teacher, dating back to last April, and resulting of reported trouble between him and George Fitzgerald, 57, of 96 Bruyn Avenue, was dismissed in city court today.

Jones had accused Fitzgerald of assaulting him at the local vocational school April 9. The charge was lodged after a reported altercation between Fitzgerald's teenage son, George, a pupil at the school, and Jones.

Absolved by Grand Jury
A charge was also brought against Jones by the son, but it went to the grand jury and was dismissed.

That brought by Jones against Fitzgerald went to city court trial. He was found guilty May 29 and was sentenced June 6 by Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn to 90 days in jail.

Through Attorney Joseph Avis, Fitzgerald sought a certificate of reasonable doubt and asked for release from jail pending a decision on the application. It was denied in the low courts and when it reached the point of PROCLAIMS RETARDED CHILDREN'S MONTH—By proclamation of Mayor John J. Schwenk (center) the month of November has been designated as National Retarded Children's Month in Kingston. The annual membership drive of the Association for Retarded Children is also scheduled for the month of November. Awarding Mayor Schwenk the first membership in the current drive of the Ulster County Chapter of the ARC are chapter President Joseph J. Connerton, right, and membership drive chairman Raymond J. Amater, left. Mayor Schwenk's proclamation recognized the purposes and goals of the National Association for retarded children, established in 1950, and of the Ulster County Chapter which is carrying out the program here as a member unit of the National Association. He urged the citizens of Kingston to give "thoughtful support and understanding" during National Retarded Children's Month to this work to "strengthen and enrich the lives of the mentally retarded."

Rights Bill Praise Puts GOP on Toes

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans kept their fingers crossed today as they received administration praise for helping to launch a strong civil rights bill in Congress.

The Republicans have warned the administration all pledges of support for the compromise measure are off if the Democrats seek to make any political gain out of civil rights at their expense.

At the moment, though, bipartisanship was holding firm and the long bottled-up legislation finally began to move through the House.

Faces More Obstacles
Even with President Kennedy, Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck behind it, however, the far-reaching compromise bill faces delays and obstacles.

The most optimistic estimate heard Tuesday after the House Judiciary Committee approved the bill by a 23-11 vote was that it would be mid-November before it gets to the House floor. The time will be needed to write a report on the measure and hold hearings in the Senate-dominated Rules Committee.

Trouble in Senate
The biggest obstacle remains the Senate, however, where it is accepted as fact that a Southern filibuster will have to be broken by a two-thirds majority vote if any bill is to be passed.

Tabbed a compromise between a tough subcommittee bill and more moderate measures introduced by Republicans, the bill that emerged from the Judiciary Committee proved stronger than the original administration bill.

Retains Some Provisions
It retained several provisions from the subcommittee bill, including one that would create a federal commission empowered to ban racial discrimination in employment in private industry. The commission would have to go into court to get an injunction carrying out its findings, however, instead of having its own enforcement

Avoid Vandalism,
Chief Requests;
City Party Set

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today advised the city's youngsters to enjoy Halloween without destructive vandalism or inconvenience to the public.

Anyone caught maliciously destroying property or perpetrating damaging or dangerous pranks will face serious consequences, he said. Starting of fires of any kind, especially in leaves, is not to be permitted.

Special patrols will be active in the city through the night, he said.

Volunteer firemen will also be on guard against the sounding of false alarms.

The chief advised all youngsters to participate in the Recreation Department's parade on Broadway and the party at the Municipal Auditorium. The parade is scheduled to start at Academy Green at 7 p. m.

Goldwater May Come Out Early Eyes March Vote In New Hampshire

By GORDON A. GLOVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he may announce whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination sooner than he had planned.

A leading contender for the nomination, Goldwater told a news conference Tuesday night that if he seeks the nomination he will campaign vigorously in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary next March 10.

May Decide Earlier

During a brief visit to New Hampshire, the Arizona Republican referred to the Jan. 27 deadline he had set for announcing his intentions and said: "I think I may make up my mind before that time in fairness to my supporters and the Republican party."

In an aside to supporters he said "I expect to be back soon."

The occasion for Goldwater's $10-a-plate fund raising dinner for a chair in government at New England college in memory of the late Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H.

Only 11 days ago, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York made a two-day speaking tour of New Hampshire and promised to enter the New Hampshire primary if he decides to seek the GOP nomination.

Notes Freedom Threat
More than 1,100 dinner guests heard Goldwater warn that an increasing shift in powers in the executive branch of the federal government is threatening the nation's freedom.

13 Area Shelters Stocked With 27 Tons of Supplies

Charles L. Arnold, deputy director for Ulster County, reports that the Department of Defense program of stocking public shelters is now in progress in Ulster County. This program consists of stocking all public shelters that offer protection from fallout with emergency food supplies, water and sanitation facilities.

Each of these shelters will accommodate 50 or more people and will have two weeks emergency supplies for each person that the shelter will be able to accommodate.

Each shelter area also will have radiological instruments for measuring fallout as well as a medical kit.

The County Welfare Department will assign shelter managers to each shelter area.

Following is a list of shelter areas that have been stocked to date, together with the weight in pounds allocated to each area:

Ulster Knife Co., Ellenville, 740 lbs.
Wiltwyck School for Boys, Esopus, 1024 lbs.
Marist Bros. School, West Park, 2762 lbs.

Advised for Weeks
The Viet Cong had been advertising for several weeks that it planned a major attack against Tan Phu, the base of the Vietnamese special forces

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

Too Late to Help
A second government force of about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, learned of the battle too late to help. U.S. authorities said Communist radio jammers knocked out the channels on all local military radios.

The operation cost the Vietnamese special forces an estimated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing, and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown.

"The day ended with the enemy in command of the field," a high-ranking American officer said.

Names of the missing Americans were not announced.

The U.S. casualty list rose to four late Tuesday when the Air Force pilot of a light spotting plane was hit by machine gun fire. The pilot flew back to his base, however.

Fail to Make Contact
Tuesday's fight was in the same area 140 miles southwest of Saigon where another government unit took a beating Oct. 19.

All day today, patrols and spotting planes combed the area where the fight took place but made no contact with the guerrillas. Presumably they slipped away in small groups on sampans.

According to an intelligence estimate, the Viet Cong probably had about 500 troops in the area at one time.

Signs Are Reported Of Arson

Blazes Are Fanned
By 25 MPH Winds

State Police investigators have been asked to probe three of 10 brush and forest fires in Ulster County reported during a 24-hour period ending 11 o'clock this morning.

Fires started under unusual circumstances were reported at Mt. Airy, Town of Saugerties Tuesday morning; along Schoolhouse Road in Mt. Marion, which was still in progress this morning; and on Dave Elliott Road, Saxton at 1:30 a. m. today.

Suspicious of Cause

Fire officials at all three reported the brush and forest fires flared up at separate locations within a short distance of each other.

Volunteer firemen battled the blazes fanned by 15- to 25-mile-an-hour winds. Two were still in progress this morning.

Several brush and woods fires last week reportedly showed signs that an arsonist was at work in an area embracing Mt. Airy, Blue Mountain and Saxton. Residents in wooded areas were asked to cooperate with authorities by noting license numbers of cars seen loitering near or entering wooded areas.

At 10:55 last night Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company responded to a woods fire along the Schoolhouse Road between the two communities where the blazes reportedly started in two separate areas along the road.

Several Companies Called
Mutual Aid called Ulster Hose Company, Sawkill, Zena, Cedar Grove and C. A. Lynch of Saugerties to aid Mt. Marion-Ruby.

Volts with tankers and Indian tanks. The fire in two sections was reported still in progress early this morning. The amount of acreage involved was not immediately determined but fire officials said the total might reach 100 acres. State Police BCI investigators were at the scene this morning.

At 1:30 this morning four trucks of Saxton Fire Department including units of Asbury-Katshian responded to a woods fire along the Dave Elliott Road between Asbury and High Falls where five acres were burning near the milk farm in that area. Mutual Aid called Centerville Fire Company to the scene at 1:50 a. m.

Saxton fire officials reported the blaze started in three separate locations within a quarter-mile area.

At 9:05 this morning Woodstock volunteers were called to a brush fire near the Woodstock dump. A brush fire in that area on Oct. 17 alerted Woodstock and Centerville firemen and forest rangers. No details were available.

Under Control
John Baldwin, observer at Overlook Fire Tower said shortly before 10:30 today that the fire in the Woodstock dump area was under control. He said it did not start at the dump but flared up in a wooded area near the dump. He recorded winds of 60 to 70 miles-per-hour at the tower.

The fire on the Mt. Airy-Blue Mountain Road reported at 10:45 a. m. yesterday was started in several places, according to fire officials. Centerville firemen were called back to wet down the area at 6:10 p. m.

At 8:50 a. m. yesterday a leaves fire was extinguished

Industry Price Boosts Won't Hit Family Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housewives, relax—for the time being anyway.

The government's economists see no danger that the autumn outbreak of price boosts in a dozen industries will unbalance the family budget.

Increases on items ranging from steel and aluminum to carpets and black pepper—was followed — perhaps by coincidence — by revival of a New York federal grand jury probe into steel-pricing policies.

Coincidental or not, that Justice Department move underscored President Kennedy's warning that Uncle Sam is "Watching with concern" any price trend that might start an

Hunt for Tug Ends

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — After nine days of fruitless search in the Atlantic for the missing tug Meitowax, the Coast Guard ended its hunt Tuesday.

The tug disappeared between New York and Charleston, S.C. She was last heard from Oct. 23 when she radioed her position as 50 miles off Norfolk, Va., sailing southward to the area where hurricane Ginny was born off the Carolina coast.

The 105-foot Meitowax carried a crew of four.

Condition Still 'Poor'

Condition of Mrs. Maud Steiner, 84, of 111 Tinker Street, Woodstock, who was injured in a motor vehicle mishap Saturday night, was still listed as "poor" today at Benedictine Hospital. She was injured when hit by a car operated by Frank Nazzaro, 49, of West Hurley, as she was crossing Route 212 about a mile west of Route 375 in the village of Woodstock, according to Kingston state police. She suffered a skull fracture, a broken ankle and possible internal injuries, it was reported.

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Harold Philby, American wife of the third man in the Burgess and Maclean spy case, has joined her husband in Moscow.

The British Foreign Office announced Tuesday that Mrs. Philby, 49, formerly of Seattle, Wash., arrived in Moscow Sept. 26.

Philby, a former foreign office employee and Mideast correspondent for a British newspaper, was identified as the man who tipped British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean 12 years ago that government authorities suspected them of being spies.

Burgess and Maclean fled to Moscow. Burgess died there in August.

Philby disappeared from Beirut last January.

Chamber Mails Director List, To Name 7 of 37

Nominating ballots leading to the election of seven directors of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce were mailed to members today.

The ballot contains the names of 37 candidates selected by a special nominating committee headed by William Darling. In addition seven blank spaces appear on the ballot for writing in additional names.

Each member is being asked to vote for seven candidates and return the ballot in a self-addressed envelope. The 14 candidates receiving the highest number of nominating votes will be the duly designated nominees for the office. An election ballot containing the names of the 14 nominees will be mailed on or about Dec. 1. The seven receiving the highest number of votes will then be declared elected for a term of three years starting Jan. 1, 1964.

County 4-H Candy Sale Scheduled November 4 to 18

It has been announced by Miss Jo Ann Maxwell, chairman of the candy sale that candy mints have been delivered to five areas in Ulster County and sale is being conducted.

The candy sale which is being sponsored by the 4-H Clubs in Ulster County is to raise funds for the 4-H Camp located at Plutarch, near New Paltz. Funds raised will be used to complete a staff building and improve the grounds and other buildings.

The candy mints, 24 to a box, have been delivered to 10 pre-determined areas and local leaders and 4-H members are selling candy.

All wishing to buy candy, may contact any 4-H local leader in their community or contact the 4-H Club Office, 74 John Street, Kingston.

The sale will be conducted from November 4 through Monday, November 18.

Satellite Fired, No Word on Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force says a satellite vehicle was boosted toward polar orbit from this West Coast missile base, but refused to say whether orbit was achieved.

The space shot Tuesday used a Thor - Agena D combination rocket.

The thrust of the intermediate range, liquid-fuel Thor was increased to 330,000 pounds by three solid-fuel rockets strapped to its sides.

Such satellites frequently carry photographic equipment being developed for the Samos space spy system.

SENSIBLE HALLOWEEN

Halloween is becoming a more constructive celebration with less destructive acts, more treats for a worthy cause and more fun for the young people.

This year the young folks again will have a "Trick or Treat" bag in which money contributions will go to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. The UNICEF appeals to the generosity of Americans who are concerned for the world's needy children once a year on Halloween. This appeal is made with the selfless and enthusiastic cooperation of more than three million American boys and girls in over 13,000 communities who participate in the world's greatest effort by children to help children.

This joyous activity is a far cry from the days when many saw the occasion as an excuse for the malicious destruction of public or private property.

Despite the fact that we still have some amongst us who enjoy destroying property and hurting others, the sum total of vandalism on Halloween is less than years gone by. We are happy to congratulate our young people for this sane and sensible celebration.

Let's help the youngsters enjoy Halloween to the fullest and encourage them to keep up the good work so that this year we can report vandalism as non-existent.

NATIONAL THRIFT OBSERVANCE

Local banking institutions are participating in the observance of National Thrift Week by calling attention to the important role savings play in the economic security of the individual, the family, the community and the nation.

Considerable progress has been made since the days when savings were put in a cookie jar, tin box, under the mattress or some other hiding place. Today we avail ourselves of local banking facilities where savings are put to work to mold a brighter future. These accumulated savings provide money for new homes and capital necessary to take care of emergencies when they arise.

The National Thrift Committee, a non-profit membership organization, has as its only purpose the encouragement of thrift. Its objectives are:

To develop self reliance within the individual through the medium of savings.

To encourage a balanced economy at personal and governmental levels.

To further the knowledge that thrift in a free economy is basic in the future power and growth of this country.

To encourage, through education, a well-planned program of money management.

To encourage capital formation as essential in economic growth and development.

MEMO TO DETROIT

One far from rare source of irritation when driving is the sight of the car ahead tooling along block after block—or mile after mile on the highway—with its turn signal blinking. This is not merely irritating, it is also dangerous because it adds a further element of uncertainty to the already uncertain business of hustling a couple of tons of steel along in traffic.

The experience of seeing the driver ahead forget to switch off a turn signal—or of finding that one has forgotten to do this—is common. So common that it prompts the question why automobile manufacturers do not correct the mechanical flaw that is a contributing factor in this safety hazard.

A tiny dashlight flashes, in most cars, when the turn signal is in operation. In most cars, a ticking sound goes with the flashing light. But the combination fails, all too often, to capture the driver's attention. It would not be much of an engineering feat to devise a better system. Detroit ought to get at it.

Christmas falls on a Wednesday this year, so there won't be so many long holiday weekends—and maybe not so many long weekends, either.

Russia's going to help Cuba recover from the hurricane. Now if only someone would help Cuba recover from Russia.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

POLITICAL HALLOWEEN WITHOUT HOBGOBLINS

The late Senator Robert Taft has been quoted as saying, in a moment of rueful exasperation, that "Wall Street" has chosen every Republican candidate for President since 1940. Mindful of this supposed power of the "Eastern liberal, international Republicans," the volunteers who have been doing the dog work throughout the country for the Draft Goldwater movement have kept looking over their shoulders for the great "Wall Street" hobgoblin. But, as the weeks go on, they are beginning to suspect that there is nothing there.

Says F. Clifton White, the national director of the Draft Goldwater Committee, "I'm starting to think that this business about the Chase Bank running the politics of the country is all a myth. We read about the Eastern liberal internationalists who are going to stop Goldwater, but we never come across their tracks."

Mr. White has a theory about this. Looking back to the campaign of 1952, when Taft was sidetracked by the Eisenhower movement, he admits that the "Easterns" wielded a lot of political power in those days. But, as he says, that power was a blend of two elements. There was, first, the power of money, used to finance the anti-Taft forces in crucial states. "But in addition to this," he points out, "there was the great political machine operated by Thomas Dewey. This machine has been dismantled, and nothing has been assembled to take its place."

Mr. White thinks it unlikely that the "money power" has the time to finance a new political machine in the few months that remain between now and the Republican convention of 1964. Moreover, he is beginning to doubt that it even cares to. In the first place, the day has passed when a big New York bank could call up a bank in Wichita, Kansas, or Amarillo, Texas, and hint that the "boys" had better get behind so-and-so's candidacy or a few loans might be called.

"Today," says Mr. White, "the banks in Wichita would say to Wall Street, 'What can we do for you today? If you need some money, we've got a lot of cash to spare. Can we make you a loan?'"

The fact that the flush Texas and California banks no longer depend on "Wall Street" means that local business men can no longer be coerced by the so-called "Eastern, internationalist, liberal" Republican conclave.

But there is even more to the story than this. "The truth would seem to be that a lot of people in 'Wall Street' like Goldwater," says Mr. White. "There's the phenomenon of the Green-which Republicans in Connecticut. They have been part of the 'Eastern, internationalist' group. But they are very much for Goldwater at this time."

So, between the erosion of their power to dictate to bankers in Missouri and Montana and their admiration for Barry Goldwater, the "Easterners" have not seen fit even to attempt the organization of the equivalent of the old Thomas Dewey political machine to put over an anti-Goldwater candidate.

Things may change, of course, if Goldwater stumbles in the primaries by offending grass roots sentiment. But if Goldwater falters, "Wall Street" will hardly step in to dictate a successor candidate. The new breed of Republican state chairman, as Mr. White points out, consists of young men like Bill Walters of the State of Washington, Jay Shaw of Nevada, Joe Steen of New Mexico, Peter O'Donnell of Texas, Tom Hall of Florida, John Grenier of Alabama, and Bob Stewart of Indiana. These men are nobody's stooges. Nor is Ray Bliss of Ohio or Dave Nichols of Maine, who are the little older than most of the new breed.

The fact is that the power in the Republican Party today has become rather evenly diffused throughout fifty states. If it decides that Goldwater is not the man to take on John F. Kennedy, it will not be stamped by the equivalent of the Wilkie blitz forces of 1940. It will not accept a General Lucius Clay, for example, merely because the "liberal East" likes a military hero. Clay would have to sell himself to the Republican delegates by exerting his own charm on them directly. As for Nelson Rockefeller, his money will count less in the primaries than the ability of his wife Happy to charm the local matrons into forgetting their prejudices about divorce.

The old rules are off. The new rules are in course of being formulated. We shall see what we shall see.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Fast Not Recommended As Way to Lose Weight

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

To fast or not to fast—that is the question a lot of persons are facing today because they have allowed themselves to become overweight.

Over the centuries people have fasted for different reasons. Through fasting, the adherents of some religious faiths have brought themselves to the point of delirium. Other persons motivated by their religious beliefs have fasted as a penance for sins.

Gandhi used fasting as a political weapon with incredible success, and on at least one occasion carried it almost to the point of death by starvation.

Most modern practitioners of fasting, however, do it for the sole purpose of losing weight. While an absolute fast (going without anything but mouth except water) will result in a rapid loss of weight, such an extreme or heroic measure has little to recommend it.

Those who attempt it are usually persons who have lost patience with slower methods or who find that after a half-hearted reduction of food intake on two or three days a week they weigh as much as or more than they did before. In any case, the weight lost is quickly regained.

Dr. Nevins S. Scrimshaw of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology made a study of teenagers who indulged in partial fasting (skipping meals) and found that they lost weight. But at the same time, because of failure to get a balanced diet they lowered their resistance to infectious diseases. This is an especially dangerous way for teenagers and young adults to do, because that is often the way tuberculosis gains a foothold.

In another study, in which normal volunteers were used, fasting caused a decrease in the alkaline reserve in the blood. This could lead to a type of acidosis. Another result was that the normal nitrogen balance between what was ingested as protein and what was eliminated in the sweat and urine as urea was disturbed. Nitrogen was lost and this can slow the healing of wounds or the recovery from any disease.

Other constituents of the blood to be lost while fasting are sodium, calcium and glucose. The sugar stored in the liver is released to the blood and thus rapidly depleted.

For these reasons nutritionists today do not recommend fasting. All the evidence points to the benefits of an adequate well-balanced diet with all the essential elements in quantities sufficient to maintain normal weight.

Anyone who insists on a period of fasting should consult his family doctor who will take into consideration the subject's general health, his present weight compared with the desired weight for his height, the reasons why a fast is desired (the type of fast (partial or complete), the length of the fasting period and the anticipated extent of activity during the fasting period).

Although these would vary with the individual, the doctor would in all probability try to dissuade the patient in favor of a more rational approach to the problem.

"Wouldn't These Be Safer Out There?"

BRUCE SHANKS, BUFFALO EVENING NEWS

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Washington, (NEA) — The 13-year old medical battle that has been fought over the so-called "anticancer drug" Krebiozen is coming to a climax within the next few weeks.

The issue is whether Krebiozen, having now been found to have caused cancer regression in two out of 504 cases on which records are available, should be tested further.

On the other hand, U. S. Food and Drug Commissioner George P. Larrick has asked the drug's discoverer, Stevan Durovic, and his scientific advisor in the Krebiozen Foundation, Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, to show cause why they should not be prosecuted in criminal court.

The drug has been administered to more than 4,200 patients on payment of a $9.50 contribution for each injection ampule containing one part Krebiozen to 1,000 parts mineral oil.

Some patients are reported to have paid out thousands of dollars for treatment. The total receipts could conceivably have run into millions of dollars.

DR. STEVAN DUROVIC, of Yugoslav birth, developed Krebiozen from an extract of infected horse blood in the Argentina before bringing it to America. He has claimed it cost $170,000 a gram to produce.

Food and Drug Administration laboratory tests have identified Krebiozen as creatine, costing 30 cents a gram to produce, or eight cents for the amount in each injection.

The developers counter that Krebiozen is not 100 per cent creatine and that it contains an added factor not yet identified.

Food and Drug Administration field investigators collected medical records on 504 patients identified by the Krebiozen Foundation as having received treatments. FDA is now assembling information to see if there has been violation of the law.

Points covered by the investigation include the possibility of misbranding through incorrect labels, the shipment of impure or adulterated drugs not up to standard, shipment in interstate commerce of a new drug without authorization, the making of false statements as to its efficacy.

After assembling all the evidence, it will be presented to the Krebiozen distributors at an informal hearing.

A decision would then have to be made on whether the case should be referred to Department of Justice for criminal prosecution in what might be the biggest medical case in history.

THE FACT THAT A PANEL of 24 cancer specialists has just branded Krebiozen "ineffective as an antitumor agent" in man is not deterring Durovic and Ivy in the slightest. They are going ahead with demands for new, joint chemical analyses of Krebiozen and further clinical tests.

The Krebiozen backers base their case on a finding that natural regression of cancer without drugs, X-ray or surgery occurs in one out of 50,000 cases. National Cancer Institute's advisory council found two cases out of the 504 reviewed in which the council says regression could be attributed to Krebiozen.

On the basis of these two cases, it is argued that Krebiozen is 200 times more effective than nature and therefore worth further research.

The whole controversy, which has raged for years, is expected to be given a public airing when two rival medical meetings are held in Washington Oct. 25-26.

The Food and Drug Administration and the American Medical Assn. are sponsoring their second National Congress on Medical Quackery at the Sheraton-Park. At the same time the National Health Federation for Maintaining Medical Freedom of Choice is sponsoring a First National Conference on Health Monopoly at the Sheraton-Carlton.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The man's voice was tired. It came through the operator's headset as a whisper. He said he was having a heart attack, but he just couldn't remember his doctor's name. He was alone, and the name would not come to mind. The operator worked for a telephone answering service. Her heart began to pound, but she talked soothingly to the man asking questions, working up clues, and studying records of messages to this man.

She found the doctor. In time, too, Harry Lefcort was talking about it. He and his brothers Bill and Dan are partial to phone operators, probably because they own the Affiliated Telephone Answering Service in New York. It is one of the biggest in the country, and employs 130 operators and 20 supervisors.

Lefcort is 64, a good-looking grandfather who spent 30 years in the wrong business — manufacturing men's clothing. He was tired of selling and traveling and eating while running. A dozen years ago, he started his telephone answering service. Now he runs between Affiliated's seven offices, which range the length of Manhattan, and he has no time to eat.

Until now, an answering service has been a mystery to me. When I phone a doctor, a dentist, a lawyer, a friend, I am always disappointed when an answering service cuts in. This leads me to believe that the operators must be abused. I'm sure that they bring out the worst in the person at the other end of the wire.

Affiliated's operators average 6,500 calls per day. They permit the phone to ring three or four times. If the client doesn't answer they do. At the switchboards, a red light means that a client pays for 24-hours service; an amber light is an 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. client. If the person called picks up the phone, the answering service operator is automatically cut off.

The 24-hour patron pays 19.50 a month, plus $2.50 to the phone company for the extension between his phone and the answering service. There is a third service, for clients who do not live in New York, but want a New York directory listing. This one is used by actors and sales organizations, and is really a service service.

Beside each switchboard plug there is a strip which tells the operator whether to say "This is Dr. Brown's residence," or "This is O'Leander 4-7411."

The operator always asks, as politely as possible, who is calling. Then she asks for the caller's phone number. After that, if there is a message, she writes it on a message pad. These are stacked and read to the client when he returns to his home, or his office.

Lefcort, who has a lot of sympathy for the aged and chronically ill, has a special service for shut-ins. This is patronized largely by old widows. At certain times of the day and night, the operator calls these people to ask how they feel, and to chat a moment. For these clients, the

The Race Front: Tension, Violence Show No Let-Up

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Racial tension is unfortunately not diminishing. News dispatches in the last 24 hours tell a tragic story of inflamed feelings and irresponsible action.

In Philadelphia, for instance, The Associated Press reports that on Monday 500 Negroes rioted. They broke windows and looted stores. Shattered glass littered the streets. Policemen turned back news photographers for fear their flashbulbs might touch off more outbreaks. The demonstrations arose because last Saturday a Negro was shot and killed by a white policeman who said that the Negro lunged at him with a knife while resisting arrest.

In St. Augustine, Fla., according to a United Press International dispatch, white men drove through a Negro neighborhood near that city Monday night, blasting homes and Negro night clubs with rifle and shotgun fire. A hand grenade was tossed at one night club but it failed to explode. Authorities said two or three cars containing white men were involved.

These are typical of many disorders that do not always attract national attention. Nearly every day the press associations carry in brief form a list of disturbances due to racial friction.

The question arises as to whether the recent agitation and series of demonstrations hasn't produced a racial consciousness that didn't exist before as widely as it does today. Certainly the subject is one that causes grave concern to the police everywhere. Many cities have Negro policemen and, unquestionably, there should be more of them, especially in Negro neighborhoods. For when a white policeman and a Negro collide, the impression can be spread by inflamed persons that the arrest is unjust or that discrimination prevails.

The problem is one that should, to be sure, interest churchmen. Many of them regretably are themselves active participants in demonstrations and hence their influence for observance of law and order is not as great as it might otherwise be. Too often the emotionally impelled leader ceases to be conciliatory and talks in terms that result in perhaps an unintended incident.

Negro leaders are themselves divided. Although Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy is certainly doing his utmost to diminish racial discrimination and is trying to do it by legislation, he was nevertheless the object of a picketing demonstration Monday night in New York City. The pickets were led by the organization known as the Congress of Racial Equality and included persons from other civil rights groups. A spokesman for the demonstrators was quoted by the UPI as having exclaimed: "The Kennedy brothers sold out the American Negro by trying to water down a strong civil rights bill."

The reference was to the Administration's efforts to get a bill through the House Judiciary committee. Faced with certain defeat on what was termed an "extreme" measure, the President had intervened personally to get a compromise bill reported out by the committee, and was successful. The saying that "half a loaf is better than none" was, however, disregarded by these Negro leaders, who apparently thought it better to see the more sweeping bill go down to defeat than to work for one that had a chance of passage.

Now, this particular demonstration was orderly and, while it attracted many spectators, there were no untoward incidents. The episode, however, emphasizes the tense feeling which is aroused. This often results in a state of mind that can bring on serious disorder whenever there is the slightest clash between the races in which the police are compelled to intervene.

Whether Congress will pass a civil rights bill is difficult to predict now, but there is certain to be a delaying filibuster in the Senate. Sen. Richard Russell, D., Ga., after talking with Southern Senators Monday, was quoted as having said that some of the Senators "expressed the opinion that demonstrations outside the South perhaps have been helpful" to the Southern side of the case.

If a civil rights bill is enacted, there will at least be a law on the subject instead of vague court orders. The issue then will be clear-cut, and obedience to a law of Congress on the subject of racial discrimination in specific forms will be a plain obligation for the first time, since no statute has ever been passed before covering the same ground. The constitutionality of such a law will, of course, be tested, but the problem should be removed from the realm of street demonstrations and left to the orderly processes of law to handle.

Negro leaders are themselves divided. Although Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy is cer-pharmacist wouldn't give her any. If the doctor didn't get her home quickly, she would kill herself. The phone operator found the doctor. He too made it in time.

A young girl stopped by and told Lefcort that her mother was a shut-in, requiring 24-hour help. However, they had no money, no friends. Harry Lefcort helped her to get a job, and asked his phone operators to call the mother when they weren't busy.

Within a week, the old lady had dozens of new friends whom she never met. The daughter worked; the mother felt that she was never alone. She gossiped to her heart's content.

The telephone operator is a faceless, nameless voice. For most of us, she's our bridge to the rest of the world. Copyright, 1963, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A checkup made this morning with area troopers showed no complaints of such incidents had been reported.

Pigeon Shoot Is Off

NILES, Mich. (AP) — Niles' downtown pigeon population won't face a firing squad—it's been given a reprieve by Mayor Mowitt S. Drew. A businessman had proposed lining up 125 marksmen on a Sunday morning, mostly along downtown rooftops, for a one-hour pigeon shoot. Drew rejected the plan as too dangerous.

Cost-Sharing Plan Still Available For Farmers Here

Ulster County farmers may still enroll in the ACP Program at the County Office, 54 John Street, and receive cost-sharing for practices to be carried out by Dec. 15, 1963.

Those expecting to spread lime or do any drainage work should contact the office for enrollment forms which will be mailed on request.

Funds are now available for cost-sharing and weather conditions are ideal for spreading lime. This may not be true later on.

All farmers who are interested are urged to get a soil test. They may stop in at the office and enroll or phone for an enrollment form.

Racial Strife At-A-Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington — President Kennedy hails House Judiciary Committee approval of his compromise civil rights bill as improving prospects for enactment this year. A Southern Democrat and a Negro leader disagree with him on the merits of the bill—for different reasons.

Omaha—Negroes stage a big demonstration around City Hall to urge an open occupancy housing ordinance. But the City Council does not take any action on such a proposal.

Philadelphia — White policeman who shot and killed a Negro larceny suspect is relieved of all duties pending an investigation. The incident Saturday night sparked mob violence later that night and again Monday night.

St. Augustine, Fla. — Police search for persons who shot up Negro section Monday night, spraying buckshot and 22-caliber bullets on two night spots, a food market and two houses. The shooting occurred only a few hours after funeral services for a white man shot to death Friday while driving through another Negro section.

Baton Rouge, La. — Justice Department files suit in federal district court charging Negroes still face discrimination while trying to register to vote in West Feliciana Parish (county).

Tighter Control On Legislators Before Committee

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The question of whether tighter controls should be set on the outside business activities of legislators was before a meeting of leaders of the State Legislature today.

The session was called against the background of new disclosures of activity that touched off widespread criticism of some members of the Legislature.

Today's meeting was arranged by Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino.

Also invited were the chairmen of the Legislature's Ethics committees—Sen. Ernest I. Hatfield, R-Poughkeepsie, and Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell, R-Amsterdam.

They opened a review of the state code of ethics in the wake of newspaper reports of possible conflicts of interest by some legislators.

Since then, a new element has been added—disclosure that five members of the Legislature and their wives accepted an expense-paid cruise from the State Savings Bank Association for individual banks.

Probing $200,000 Fire

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP)—An investigation was underway today into the cause of a $200,000 fire which destroyed a warehouse in this Ontario County community. The fire leveled the Geneva

Vermont Want Rail Service to Resume

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Vermont has asked for federal permission to join in a move to acquire and resume operations over a portion of the lines abandoned two years ago by the Rutland Railroad after a labor dispute.

The petition, filed Tuesday with the Interstate Commerce Commission, calls for the state to purchase 131.6 miles of the Rutland track and lease it to Vermont Railway Inc.

The 1963 Vermont General Assembly authorized the purchase. Vermont Railway Inc. would have an option to purchase the track and would operate the line as a common carrier.

The petition calls for purchase of 125 miles of the Rutland main line from a point in Bennington County to Burlington and 4.5 miles of the Bennington branch and 2.1 miles of the Bellows Falls branch.

Desmond Fire Damage

A spectacular early morning fire today extensively damaged a frame combination barn and garage on the estate of former State Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Balmville, Orange County. Local fire companies were assisted by volunteers from neighboring communities, and Marlboro Fire Co. stood by in case more firemen were needed. Desmond is reportedly vacationing in Europe.

Chairman Named For State Action In Mental Hygiene

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A New York City businessman was named by Gov. Rockefeller today as chairman of a new state agency that will direct a $300-million expansion of the state's mental hygiene facilities.

Raymond C. Daley of Manhattan, president of the George A. Fuller Co., was named a member and chairman of the agency for a term ending Dec. 31, 1965. Rockefeller also appointed: Charles Schlaifer of Manhattan, founder and chairman of the National Mental Health Committee, for a term ending Dec. 31, 1967. State Housing Commissioner James W. Gaynor of New Rochelle, for a term ending Dec. 31, 1969.

The new agency is known formally as the Mental Hygiene Facilities Improvement Fund.

As a semi-independent agency, it will have jurisdiction over all existing mental hygiene facilities and will finance and direct construction of the expansion program.

Establishment of the fund was approved by the 1963 Legislature on Rockefeller's recommendation.

The new procedure will allow financing of the expansion program outside the state budget.

The new agency will use money borrowed through bond issues.

Draw Almost No Opposition

Proposed Amendments Discussed for Voting

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two articles discussing proposed amendments to the State Constitution that will appear on the ballot in Tuesday's election.)

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Home-rule powers will be extended to 1,392 towns and smaller villages with a combined population of nearly 6 million persons if New York voters approve Amendment No. 4 in the election Tuesday.

The proposal is one of seven recommendations for changes in the state constitution that will appear on the ballot. All are expected to win approval.

Not Much Opposition
They have drawn almost no opposition, compared with long and heated debates in past years over proposed amendments involving large expenditures and such subjects as public housing or the church-state issue.

Two other proposed amendments on the Nov. 5 ballot deal with local-government affairs. Each is relatively simple, unlike the far-reaching home-rule amendment. Amendment No. 5 would authorize the Legislature to establish a procedure by which localities could disregard borrowing for construction of sewage-disposal facilities in determining how closely their debt approached constitutional limits. Thus, the debt limit would not bar a community from going ahead with a sewage-disposal project.

Amendment No. 6 would give villages the same authority now held by counties, cities and towns in raising police and firemen's pensions on local determination that a need for such increase exists. Villages were excluded when other units of government were given the authority in 1959. Supporters of the measure explain that hardship has resulted in many cases in which pensions are based on salaries earned many years ago. The benefits remained fixed while the cost of living went up sharply.

The proposed home-rule amendment would expand but simplify the language of the existing Article 9 of the constitution.

At present, home-rule powers are accorded to counties, cities and to villages with populations of 5,000 or more.

Right to Vote
Home rule is the right of a local government to decide its own affairs without having to refer — or put up with interference by — the Legislature. The Legislature would retain power, however, to enact general laws applying equally to all cities, counties, towns or villages as the case may be. And the Legislature still would be able to enact a law pertaining to a specific community otherwise protected by home-rule if asked to do so by a two-thirds vote of the local legislative body — or a majority vote of the local body, if the chief executive concurs. The amendment would add a third alternative — an emergency message from the governor. He could ask for passage of a bill applying to a single locality. In that case, approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature would be needed for passage. The proposed amendment includes a Bill of Rights that would give to home rule the same constitutional protection given to individual rights of free speech, trial by jury and other guarantees.

Next: Voting qualifications, salaries of Governor and Lieutenant Governor.)

522 Staters Seek $8 Million Water Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of 522 New Yorkers are seeking more than $8 million in damages as the result of high water in Lake Ontario during 1951 and 1952 which they attribute to Canadian operation of Gut Dam in the St. Lawrence River. The Foreign Claims Settlement Commission said as many as 154 more claims could be filed before the Nov. 14 deadline. Congress last year approved legislation to permit the commission to process the claims in hopes that negotiations with Canada—now at an impasse—over payment of damages could be resumed.

Urges Vols Man Firehouses, Area Halloween Night

A request that volunteer firemen man their firehouses Thursday night, Halloween, and if possible patrol the area in the vicinity of their firehouse, has been made by James Hicks, chairman of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association committee on Fire Prevention.

Hicks pointed out the danger from extremely dry condition which exists today and the possibility of fires being started by pranksters who might overlook the seriousness of such a prank.

PORT EWEN NEWS

Vivian Stadt—Telephone FE 8-2728

Tonight, 6:45, Girl Scout Troops 51 and 121 will meet at the Reformed Church, the Misses Ella Jones and Emily Card, leaders.

Tonight, 7:30 p. m., Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help, with sermon by the Rev. Russell Abata, CSsR, will be followed by benediction and confession. Girl Scout 137 will not meet this Thursday.

By being on the alert a volunteer fire company would be in a position to meet any emergency and prevent a serious fire due to the extremely dry condition which exists, Hicks issued a request for cooperation of all departments.

Friday, All Saints Day, Masses 6 and 8 a. m. Saturday, All Souls Day, Masses 7, 7:30 and 8 a. m. A community Reformation service will be held tonight, 7 o'clock, in the Methodist Church. The Rev. Ronald D. Lokhorst, pastor of the Reformed Church will deliver the sermon Why Am I A Protestant?

The senior choir of the Port Ewen Reformed Church will hold choir rehearsal tonight immediately following the community Reformation service in the Methodist Church.

The annual meeting of lot owners of the Riverview Cemetery Inc., Port Ewen, will be held at the town hall Saturday 2

The Mother's Auxiliary of Troop 26 Cub Scouts reports its recent rummage sale a success and thanks all those who helped. The next meeting of the club will be Tuesday 7 p. m. at the Reformed Church.

Pack 26 Cub Scout Leaders committee meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 6, 7:30 p. m. at the home of Wilma Lemister, Port Ewen.

Boy Scouts will conduct a paper drive Saturday starting 8

a. m. Magazines and papers should be tied in bundles and placed on porches where they can be seen.

Laundered the Lake

BLACKWELL, Okla. (AP) — The city of Blackwell has a $210,000 laundry bill — for its lake. The city hired a "lake cleaner" to dredge out mud and silt which had built up in Lake Blackwell, the city's water supply. About 1.5 million pounds of silt a day was taken from the lake.

Mental Health Speaker Named; Parley Friday

When the second annual mental health institute takes place Friday at the Campus School of the State University College, New Paltz, participants will hear Dr. Dan William Dodson, director of the center for Human Relations and Community Studies at New York University.

A professor of educational sociology at NYU, Dr. Dodson is widely known as an authority on desegregation and other problems of intergroup relations.

He has been a member of the faculty of New York University since 1936, beginning as a teaching fellow. He was promoted to full professorship in 1950. On leave of absence from NYU from 1944 to 1948, he served as executive director of the Mayor's Committee on Unity in New York City.

Conducted Urban Studies

As an urban sociologist he has directed five studies covering the lower part of Manhattan Island. He has assisted in studies of suburban school systems in New York and New Jersey communities and has studied problems of intergroup relations in New York City, New Rochelle and Orange, N. J.

DR. DAN W. DODSON

Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly and her planning committee of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, sponsors of the institute, have worked to present a program of interest to the general public as well as being of specific help to those engaged in community services such as health, welfare, legal and educational services.

The role of the family court judge and the family court system as well as the need for more family and marital counseling services will be discussed as methods to aid in resolving family problems.

Reservations for the Friday meeting may be made by contacting the Ulster County Association for Mental Health office, 27 East O'Reilly Street or Mrs. Connelly. The program will start, 9:30 a. m. continuing through 4:30 p. m. Luncheon and coffee will be served.

The Yankees beat Milwaukee in the 1958 World Series yet were outscored by the Braves, 33-29.

NO CONTEST — Contest judges had a total of 8,525 entries, plus 95,040 sent in by one contestant. It was a technical contest sponsored by Studebaker Corp., aimed at engineers. George N. Woodruff of Cape Canaveral came up with a new contest wrinkle. He set a computer to work getting every possible combination of the numbers involved. He's shown here with his 3-pound, 160-foot-long entry. Six other contestants tied with him for first prize.

Rematch Unlikely For Texas Solons After House Tiff

By GEOFFREY GOULD
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Gonzalez is ready to fight, either "Marquis of Queensberry rules or alley fight rules." But his intended opponent, Rep. Ed Foreman, says "as far as I'm concerned it's over with."

One-Punch Fight
So no rematch of Tuesday's one-punch fight just off the floor of the House of Representatives is in prospect.

Gonzalez and Foreman are both Texans. Foreman is 29 and husky. He's a Republican who espouses conservative causes. Gonzalez is 41 and a Democrat who espouses liberal causes. Foreman said, "I didn't call Gonzalez a pinko or a Communist. What I did say was that his ultra-liberal leftwing voting record was a disservice to the Constitution of the United States and furthers the Socialist-Communist cause."

Angered by Story
Gonzalez was angered by a news story that quoted Foreman as calling him a pinko, and confronted his fellow Texan Tuesday on the House floor.

What happened next is in some dispute, but in the speaker's lobby just outside the House chamber Gonzalez gave Foreman a single punch on the shoulder.

"I'd still like to have it out with him man to man, but he's a Joto—that's Spanish for a yellow-livered sissy," Gonzalez said.

Foreman, discussing the incident later in his office, said "I played four years of college football. I'm 6-foot-4 and 200 pounds and I exercise regularly."

Gonzalez said he weighed in at 174½.

Late Bulletin

Expulsion Ordered
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States demanded today the immediate departure from U.S. territory of three members of the Soviet U.N. delegation accused of spying.

The U.S. delegation made the demand in a note sent to the Soviet delegation a day after two of the three were picked up with a New Jersey executive of a firm doing secret projects for the U.S. government.

The three men who were ordered out of the country were Gleb A. Pavlov, attache in the Soviet delegation; Yugi A. Romashin, third secretary, and Vladimir I. Olenov, described merely as a member of the delegation.

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Moroccan King Hassan II were reported today to have reached agreement on the basis of a compromise formula settling their border conflict.

The formula was said to have been suggested by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

Deluge Covers Streets

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A water tower designed to fit objections of surrounding residents fell apart Tuesday, pouring 325,000 gallons of water into streets in the East Oakland Hills.

Two cars were tossed about by the deluge, windows were broken, pedestrians ran for cover, pavement was chewed up, lawns ruined, doors bashed in and homes flooded.

No one was injured. The $150,000 structure, 54 feet in diameter, 32 feet deep and capable of holding 500,000 gallons, was being filled for the first time.

Officials of the East Bay municipal utility district said the tower was designed in the shape of a lotus to meet neighborhood objections to standard-shaped towers.

LWV Explained For Lions Club

"That government is strongest, in which every man takes a part."

This was said Tuesday by Mrs. Elsworth Johnson of the League of Women Voters of New York State at the noon luncheon of the Kingston Lions Club.

Mrs. Johnson, past president of the League of Women Voters, was introduced by Mrs. W. J. Kohn of the League's Speakers Bureau.

Mrs. Kohn preceded the introduction with remarks on the organization's purposes and principles.

She reported, this group encourages all citizens to participate year 'round on all three levels of politics, national, state, and local. They do not support or oppose candidates for office, but they do support or oppose particular amendments after careful study. The League, on a local level, publishes informative pamphlets, sponsors candidates' meetings, and forms speaker's bureaus which are available to civic groups.

Mrs. Johnson explained the pros and cons of the seven amendments on this year's ballot. The League of Women Voters does not support or oppose any of these amendments. Only 40 per cent of voters at the polls vote on the amendments. A great deal of voters are not informed on the issues or feel their individual vote is unimportant.

The seven proposed amendments to the state constitution, explained by Mrs. Johnson, are:

Voting qualifications

Succession to Governorship

Continuity of Government

Home rule

Sewage facilities

Pension increases

Forest preserve

A booklet entitled, "Facts for Voters 1963" is available to area voters from the League of Women Voters, which explains each amendment in detail.

Ulster County Chairman of the Community Chest, Lion William Stall, reported on the progress of this year's campaign. He reported 50 members of the local Lions Club participated in this year's program.

Theft Is Reported At Cornell While Men Fighting Fire

Firemen asked investigation Tuesday of a theft from Cornell Station while men and apparatus were out on a brush fire, and of a grass and brush fire in the Ohio Street area, which damaged a garage.

Theft of $2 to $4 in change kept in a jar at the fire station and of several candy bars was reported to police at 7:50 p. m. Firemen said someone had entered the station while they were at a brush fire on the Ups-and-Downs off West Chestnut Street. The call was at 6:45 p. m., and Cornell responded with the Rapid Company.

A unit from Central Station responded to a call at 2:15 p. m. for a grass and brush fire off Ohio Street. Firemen said it had apparently been started by someone. It scorched siding and door casing on a frame garage owned by Harry Hernig, of 29 Ohio Street.

Rights Bill

powers, as in the subcommittee bill.

Two other provisions would ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants, theaters and other places serving the public, and empower the President to cut off funds for federal programs where discrimination is practiced.

Shipments on Schedule

MONTREAL (AP) — Shipments of Canadian wheat to fill huge orders overseas are just about on schedule, officials say, despite recent strikes of St. Lawrence River longshoremen and Great Lakes seamen.

ROBERT G. BAKER

Secrecy Shrouds Baker Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators delving into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker are working behind a barrier of secrecy they say is essential in the early stages of the investigation.

Baker, the one-time page boy who achieved wealth and power as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, resigned under fire Oct. 7.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said it was necessary to take exploratory testimony behind closed doors to avoid hurting innocent persons because of association with the inquiry.

But Jordan said the investigation at "some point" would be opened to the public, with Baker as a witness.

The next closed session of the Rules Committee is scheduled for Friday, but procedural matters are scheduled rather than the hearing of testimony.

The committee's task is to determine whether Baker or any other Senate employee has been involved in conflicts of interest between official duties and personal business affairs.

They may try to summon a beautiful West German woman from her overseas home for questioning about rumors linking her name with some Washington figures.

The West German press has quoted the woman, Ellen Rometsch, 27, as denying any intimacies with men other than her husband, Rolf, a West German army sergeant from whom she is now estranged.

The West German government has said Rometsch was called home last August from a post at its embassy here because of reports concerning his wife's conduct.

Charge Dismissed

seeking leave to bring it to the State Court of Appeals, Fitzgerald had about completed his jail term. Application to the high court was denied.

Not in Court

Today was set as the deadline date for prosecution of the charge against Jones. Fitzgerald was not in court and was not represented by counsel. Dismissal was announced by Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr.

Jones was represented by Attorney Ernest E. Schirmer, of Saugerties.

Why We Say--

LOLLYPOP
10-21

NOISE MAKER: The lollipop was invented in the 1800's and so named for a combination of the words "lolly" for tongue and "pop" for the noise the candy-on-a-stick was supposed to make when being eaten.

Crack Drug Ring With 12 Arrests

CHICAGO (AP)—Twelve persons were arrested Tuesday night, cracking what federal investigators said was a $10-million-per-year narcotics ring which controlled 80 per cent of the dope traffic in Chicago.

Among those arrested was a reputed henchman of the Chicago Cosa Nostra "family," Americo (Pete) DePietto.

Charles G. Ward, chief of the Chicago office of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, said 35 ounces of heroin estimated at $17,500 was seized in the arrests.

Controlled by Costa Nostra

Ward said the arrests, which he described as the most important narcotics seizures in Chicago history, came after a federal grand jury returned two suppressed indictments naming 41 persons on narcotics violations.

Ward said the ring controlled by Cosa Nostra had raked in more than $30 million in narcotics sales since 1960.

Ward said DePietto, a resident of a suburban Lombard, is the "narcotics officer" of the Chicago Cosa Nostra "family," and answers only to reputed crime boss Momo Salvatore (Moe) Giancana.

Mobster Joseph Valachi has told a Senate Rackets subcommittee that Giancana is head of the Chicago "family."

DePietto and 10 others were arrested in Chicago. Thirteen named in the indictments are in prison or are free on bond for other offenses. The remaining 17 are being sought in Chicago, St. Louis and Cleveland.

DePietto is free on $40,000 bond.

'Importers' Arrested

Ward said three men who were responsible for importing most of the narcotics which entered Chicago were arrested. He identified them as Angelo Passinini, 36; Joe Battistio, 58, and Theodore De Rose, 59, all of Chicago. A fourth "importer," Michael DeMarco of Chicago, was named in the indictment and is free on bond for another offense.

The arrests were made by federal narcotics agents, Illinois narcotics investigators, Cook County sheriff's officers and Chicago police.

Others arrested were Frank Carrioncel, 25; Miss Mary Wright, 35; Miss Opal Cole, 35; Miss Pat Cole, James Isaacson, 37; John Thurmond; James Kilpacky, and Solly Monte, 34.

Three Are Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Three persons were injured early today when a car struck a utility pole and safety stanchion at Broadway and Grand Street. A police report at 2:14 a. m., said the car driven by Thomas Sanches, 28, of 159 Pementer Street, Newburgh, was headed up Broadway when the driver claimed the brakes failed.

Taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum ambulance were Sanches, who suffered a nose injury; Edwardo Alvarez, 21, of 62 Van Buren Street, Kingston, abrasion of right knee, and Ruperto Ayala, 53, of the same address, laceration of lower lip. The latter was admitted and was reported in fair condition later today.

Officers Frank Kennelly and Junious Harris investigated.

Congress to Remain Up to Start of 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tuesday of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. And House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

15 Days Off

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of Jan. 3. The first session of the 88th Congress must—by law—end at noon that day.

If the Senate convenes in the morning of Jan. 3, it will stop at noon and reconvene one minute later to start the second session, Mansfield said.

The Senate will be faced with a bigger load in November and December than the House.

The House has passed one of President Kennedy's two top priority bills, the $11-billion tax cut. The other, a civil rights bill, was approved in committee Tuesday. Both are in the hearing stage in the Senate.

The limitations of the calendar appeared to make it almost certain that Congress cannot pass the bills this year.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told newsmen it was his best guess that the civil rights bill would reach the Senate about Dec. 1.

Filibuster Likely

A Southern filibuster is expected against the measure and that will probably use up December.

With long debate likely on civil rights, chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., can be expected to shut down his Finance Committee's consideration of the tax measure which he opposes.

The committee, now in its fourth week of public hearings on the bill, still has more than 125 witnesses to hear.

Unofficially, however, Senate Democratic leaders say they plan to try to get both the tax and civil rights legislation to the President this year.

Orlando Pena won only 12 games for Kansas City last season but three of them were shut-outs. He lost 20 times despite a 3.69 earned run average.

Newfoundland Next Stop for Fickle Ginny

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Hurricane Ginny moved over the Gulf of St. Lawrence today on a course for the west coast of Newfoundland after lashing the Maritime Provinces with winds up to 100 miles an hour.

In her wake, she left uprooted trees, disrupted communications and stalling shipping. There were no reports of casualties.

The weather office at Gander, Nfld., predicted Ginny would die in the North Atlantic following its passage across the east end of Anticosti Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and along the coast of Labrador.

Busy Weekend Is Ahead for Ulster Republican Club

A busy weekend of activities has been planned by the Town of Ulster Republican Club at the headquarters on Albany Avenue Extension and throughout the town. The candidates and town officials will meet at the headquarters Thursday night for the purpose of receiving the "trick and treaters" of the town.

Saturday candidates and club members will call on residents of the second election district in the Lake Katrine and Glenier Park area and the third election district of the East Kingston area. Supervisor Alexander Banyo will address the residents of the area by means of the Clarke broadcasting system. The last two Saturdays tours of the five election districts have been made and the candidates introduced to the voters. The tour Saturday will leave Republican headquarters at 12:30 p. m.

Saturday night, Nov. 2, the Republican candidates will attend the spaghetti and meat ball supper being sponsored by the Town of Ulster Republican Club at the East Kingston Firehouse. The dinner, which will be served from 5 to 8 p. m., announces that tickets may be obtained from any member of the club or at the door.

A final rally will be held at the club headquarters on Election Eve, Nov. 4, where there will be speakers to discuss the issues and the candidates will also be present and address the voters. President Anthony Cicoria urges all residents of the town to attend this final rally.

Town of Ulster Republican Headquarters will be open all day Election Day for the convenience of voters who may be seeking information and also for use by the committeemen. On Election Night the headquarters will remain open after the polls close at 9 p. m. to receive returns from the election districts and for the tabulation of votes to determine who has been successful in the voting.

Making More Music

CHICAGO, (AP) — Music rooms more than doubled in new secondary schools constructed last year.

American Music Conference says a study reveals almost 30 per cent of 1963 additions to existing schools included music training facilities.

There are more than 70,000 groups of instrumental music organizations in elementary, junior and senior high schools in this country.

Convict Teener As Hired Killer

HORNELL, N.Y. (AP) — A teen-age farmhand, accused of first-degree murder in the kill-for-hire shooting of a Prattburg farmer, was found guilty Tuesday of first degree assault by a Steuben County jury.

The jury returned the verdict against Wesley E. Nash, 19, also of Prattburg, after a four hour deliberation. Nash was on trial for first-degree murder, but the jury of seven men and five women were instructed they could return one of eight verdicts against the defendant.

Nash was charged with the slaying of Jurko Klymiuk, 45, last Nov. 8. Nash was accused of taking $1500 from Klymiuk's 35-year-old wife, Stella, in return for the shooting. Mrs. Klymiuk will be tried on first degree murder charges in Wayne County. She obtained a change of venue from Steuben County last month.

Judge Alton J. Wightman of Steuben County Court sentenced Nash Nov. 12. He faces a maximum 10 year prison sentence.

Nash had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

SPECULATION IS TOO RIFE

Thousands of American investors are speculators at heart. This situation creates confusion and a multitude of illogical decisions about buying and selling stocks is the result.

Any person with idle dollars seeking profitable employment should think through a sound method of operation. And once a policy has been formulated, it should be carried through until circumstances dictate a change of policy.

Here, for example, is a puzzled investor who, in recent years, bought 200 shares of General Motors at $35 a share. The stock is now $77 a share and he had a potential profit of more than $8,000.

He is being urged to take the profit, pay a capital gains tax of over $2,000 and buy something else with the remaining dollars.

He bought the stock for investment but, under the goading of brokers and friends, the 100 per cent profit causes him to wonder if he shouldn't take it. Of course he shouldn't. On a cost basis, he is getting 10 per cent on his money and were he to take the profits and reinvest the money, he would probably buy a stock of lesser quality with a small return.

With the Dow-Jones stock averages at all-time highs, this dilemma about cashing in profits is universal. Any stockholder who bought sound stocks 5, 10, 15 years ago is faced with this profit problem.

The army of new stockholders is not being properly educated about investment and speculation. This condition is reflected in the wide swings of prices on the New York Stock Exchange.

My belief is that today 90 per cent of the new equity owners are looking for stock market profits and not for dependable income and steady economic growth. It is in this very field that bankers, brokers, and investment counselors can do a good job.

Every sizeable savings institution in America should have on its official staff a capable public relations officer who, before service clubs, women's organizations, Chamber of Commerce and other societies, would speak in a popular vein about the virtues of sound investment and the dangers of unsound speculation.

This principle carries over into many related fields. In 1961, for example, a young sales executive, age 32, with a family of four, carrying only $10,000 of insurance, received a year-end bonus of $1,000.

A chartered Life Underwriter tried unsuccessfully to sell him a $30,000, 30-year endowment policy. It would have matured when he was 62 and such a policy would have given financial stability to his family.

But he took his $1,000 bonus and bought 100 shares of a speculative stock that, the broker promised, would go to $50 a share in two or three years.

The stock is now $2.50 a share and he asks what he should do. Speculative profits often are much more intriguing than sound security.

Today there are millions of people speculating in the stock market who have not established the foundations of financial self-reliance that they should.

No investor should speculate who cannot afford to do so.

The Forum

(Q) "I have a $10,000 mortgage on my Westchester home and I own two stocks that show $12,000 capital gain. Should I cash in the profits and pay off the mortgage?"—B. E. W.

(A) — Paying debts with profits is usually advisable. I would.

Headmaster Dies Of Injuries in Columbia Mishap

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — Lev-erett T. Smith, 56, headmaster of the Harvey School at Katonah, died early Tuesday of injuries suffered Sunday night in a two-car collision that killed another man.

The accident occurred on Route 22 in Ancram, Columbia County, about 10 miles south-east of Hudson.

Joseph Tajen, 44, of Pittsfield, Mass., was dead at the scene.

Smith, of Katonah, died in Columbia Memorial Hospital. His wife, Eleanor, 56, was reported in critical condition at the hospital.

Tajen's wife, Rhoda, 38, and their six-year-old daughter, Gailann, were listed in fair condition at the hospital.

State Police said the automobiles driven by Mrs. Smith and Tajen collided head-on.

13-Inch Snow in Maine

New England Gets Drought Breather

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain and snow eased drought conditions and forest fire hazards in sections of New England today but not much relief was reported in other parts of the dry belt from the Southern Plains to New York State.

Nantucket Doused

Heavy rains along the edges of hurricane Ginny splashed southeastern New England Tuesday as the storm moved into Nova Scotia. Moderate to heavy snow fell in central and northern Maine, with 13 inches in Greenville and nearly a foot in Houlton and Caribou. Snow flurries fell throughout New England, including Boston. More than 2½ inches of rain doused Nantucket, Mass.

Tuesday's rain belt extended along the Atlantic Coast from South Carolina into New England. Light rain dampened scattered sections in the Great Lakes region and southeastward to the Appalachians, but amounts were too light to break the prolonged dry spell.

Snow flurries flecked the area of Bluefield, straddling the Virginia-West Virginia line.

In New York State, 12 new fires were reported with a total of 59 still burning and a total of blazes in October. Strong winds in some woodland areas increased the fire danger. State forces have been closed and outdoor burning banned since Oct. 13.

But the fresh rains in Rhode Island, up to one inch, resulted in the lifting of restrictions against starting outdoor fires or hunting in wooded areas.

Cool air covered most of the northern and eastern half of the nation today. Freezing temperatures were reported in the northeastern Great Lakes region and the Northern Rockies. Some of the cool air dipped into parts of the Southland, with readings in the upper 30s in northern Georgia and Kentucky.

Cost of Living Unchanged; Levels Off for September

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained unchanged in September with fluctuating prices of selected items balancing off, the Labor Department said today.

Food prices fell six-tenths of one per cent from August. Transportation costs also eased, largely because of gasoline price wars in the Midwest and season-end lower prices for new cars of the 1963 models.

On the other hand, clothing prices were up slightly and there was a 1.9-per cent increase in the cost of such services as auto insurance, medical services, home repairs, laundry and dry cleaning.

The department's price index remained for the second straight month at 10.71. This means that selected items which cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period now cost $10.71.

In detailing the food price drop the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said largely seasonable lower prices of fresh fruits and vegetables more than offset a seasonal egg price increase.

Networks to Air Kennedy Parley

NEW YORK (AP) — The major networks will broadcast President Kennedy's news conference live on radio Thursday and later on television via tape. American Broadcasting Co., National Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System and the Mutual network will broadcast the conference on radio at 4 p.m. (EST).

CBS and NBC television coverage will be at 4:30 p.m. and ABC's will be at 5 p.m.

Industry Price

inflationary spiral. Kennedy's Consumer Advisory Council, set up last year to give consumers a lobby in Washington, announced a special study of recent increases in steel, electrical equipment, aluminum and chemicals.

The council said it wants to find out whether the increases "appear to be justified from the consumer point of view."

Arnold E. Chase, price chief for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, told an interviewer: "The wholesale price index for October may show a decline instead of an increase."

The increases on several steel products, even if passed all along the line to consumers, will be like those of last spring, Chase predicted: a few dollars on a car or tractor, a few dimes on a washer or refrigerator, but no measurable impact on the over-all cost of living.

The commission report said evidence given by 64 witnesses at the hearings indicated a "compelling need for immediate corrective action."

It termed the evidence "revealing and shocking." The four-man commission began hearings Oct. 8 into the gambling situation in Westchester, which borders New York City.

The commission investigation took in 16 Westchester communities, but half of the hearing testimony was devoted to one in particular—Yonkers, fifth largest city in the state with a population of 190,000.

Besides Yonkers, the commission delved into gambling and police enforcement in Mount Vernon, New Rochelle, White Plains, Port Chester, Elmsford, Greenburgh, Larchmont, Mamaroneck, Mount Kisco, Ossining, Peekskill, Pelham, Tarrytown, North Tarrytown and Tuckahoe.

IBM Dividend

NEW YORK — Directors of International Business Machines Corporation on Tuesday declared a regular quarterly cash dividend of $1.25 per share on the common stock, payable Dec. 10, 1963, to holders of record Nov. 8, 1963. The former quarterly dividend rate was $1 per share.

He signed a contract with MGM in 1927 for the same figure, but declined afterward to sign exclusive contracts and remained a free lance actor for the rest of his career.

In 1953-54, Menjou starred as narrator of a television series, "My Favorite Story."

that took part in the fight. Military officials said about 300 Vietnamese began moving north against a reported Viet Cong concentration Monday night.

At dawn Tuesday the task force charged into the zone three miles north of Tan Phu where they expected to find the enemy—and found nothing.

Two companies in the force met some enemy fire but kept moving. The ill-fated third company ran into a wall of fire.

Phoenicia Fire

M. F. Whitney Hose Company responded to a brush fire at 4:22 p. m. yesterday at Phoenicia.

A brush fire at the rear of Twin Lakes Mountain House off Lucas Avenue Extension burned off about three acres of woodland Tuesday. Hurley Fire Department volunteers and forest rangers battled the blaze.

Highland Fire Company responded with three trucks at 12:19 p. m. yesterday to extinguish a brush and grass fire near Highland dump.

Following woods fire last week on Oct. 21 and 23 residents in the area reported seeing cars leaving the scene shortly before the fires flared up. Investigation after the fire Oct. 23 off the Blue Mountain-Quarryville Road in Centerville Fire District produced a good description of a car suspected of being in the area before the fire was reported.

Suspect Arson

On October 21, a resident reported he observed a car pulling away and heard a minor explosion prior to the flare up of a fire on the Peoples Road, Mt. Airy, also in Centerville Fire District.

The third fire in as many days on October 24 burned off about two acres of brush and destroyed a wooden garage on the property of the Rev. Daaniel Brink of Hackensack, N. J. The unoccupied summer bungalow on the property in the Blue Mountain area was saved.

There was a hint today from the State Conservation Department that law enforcement agencies would crack down on persons entering woods and others starting outdoor fires.

State-wide, the Associated Press reported that cold winds whistled across the state today, drying out rain-moistened woodlands and threatening to fan smoldering forest fires to new life.

Winds Continue

The Weather Bureau said winds would continue to average 15 to 25 miles an hour in many sections, with low temperatures expected.

Snow fell early today in Carmel and Mahopac both in Putnam County.

Referring to the brisk winds, a Conservation Department spokesman remarked yesterday, "I'm afraid that this wind is going to cancel out any good the showers did."

The department said the outbreak of 12 new fires Tuesday raised to a record 645 the number of fires this month. At least 59 were burning Tuesday night.

49 Are Fined

Meanwhile, the department reported that 49 persons have been fined sums ranging from $10 to $100 for violating the drought-emergency bans on entering the woods and outdoor burning.

Fred Oettinger, the department's fire-control supervisor, said the arrests were made on a variety of violations, including burning of brush or trash and entering the woods for camping, hunting or fishing.

All hunting and fishing seasons are suspended as a result of a gubernatorial order closing public and private woodlands for recreational use. Upstate woods were closed Oct. 13, and the prohibition was extended to New York City and Long Island on Oct. 18.

NEW YORK (AP) — Blue chips took some sharp losses as profits were taken in a declining stock market early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. Issues which were the biggest gainers recently were among the sharpest losers.

Generally, the news background remained encouraging, although Ford's report of lower earnings brought an accumulation of sell orders which delayed the stock's opening. It dropped 2½.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.86 at 756.64.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 7 at 281.6 with industrials off 1.1, rails off .2 and utilities off .4.

General Motors dropped more than a point of its recent large gains. AT&T took a similar loss.

Hassan, Algerian Leader Held 1st Sahara Meeting

BAMAKO, Mali (AP) — After a day of haggling, King Hassan II of Morocco and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria met today with mediators trying to end the border conflict between the two nations.

The meeting lasted 45 minutes. There was no immediate indication of progress. But the fact that the leaders met face to face for the first time since fighting broke out raised hope for a compromise settlement.

A Moroccan source said, however, that a luncheon Hassan and Ben Bella had been scheduled to attend with the negotiators was called off. Each delegation was eating by itself, the source said.

Ben Bella and Hassan sat down at a conference table in the Mali presidential palace with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. Since the arrival of Ben Bella and Hassan Tuesday, Selassie and Keita had been working to bring them together.

Selassie reportedly proposed that an international force from African nations patrol a demilitarized zone to be established in the disputed border area in the Sahara Desert.

Algerian sources said this proposal was acceptable to Algeria only if it meant the total withdrawal of all Moroccan forces from territory claimed by Algeria.

Welles Chuckles Over 'Invasion,' Has No Regrets

LONDON (AP)—Orson Welles choked back a chuckle and said he has not the slightest regret for his Martian invasion radio drama that panicked Americans 25 years ago tonight.

"Looking back I wouldn't change a thing," the actor, now 48, told an interviewer. "Six million Americans heard Welles' broadcast of 'The War of the Worlds' on Oct. 30, 1938 and one million were disturbed, researchers found."

It began at 8 p.m. on the CBS Sunday night "Mercury Theatre of the Air." Interspersing H.G. Wells' 40-year-old fantasy with realistically styled news bulletins, the Mercury players created this scene:

Flaming objects landed in New Jersey. "Things" emerged. As tall as skyscrapers, they waded the Hudson River to destroy New York. A mysterious Martian ray dealt instant death. With Nazi Germany nibbling at the Sudetenland and America jangled by European war nerves, newspapers and radio stations were flooded by calls from frightened listeners. A Pittsburgh man found his wife in the bathroom, hysterically grasping a bottle of poison and crying, "I'd rather die this way."

A San Francisco man called police, volunteering to fight "this awful thing."

Toward the end of the hour-long drama, the Martians were destroyed by some bacteriological reaction.

Recalling the circumstances of the broadcast, "Sure I had a pretty good idea it would touch off a wave of jitters, but I still went ahead."

"I just thought it was time to demonstrate that everything said on radio isn't necessarily true."

money be appropriated in the 1963 budget in the beginning of this year?

"Instead, you withheld your request until May, when you knew money would not be available for another year, and you chose a date some seven days before election to make a public charge that nothing is being done."

Drawing Specifications

"Despite your tactics, I want the people of the 13th Ward to know that the city engineer is drawing complete specifications, and seeking accurate labor and material costs from various sources of supply, so that this problem can be permanently solved under the 1964 budget."

"And, I hope the residents of the 13th Ward will choose George McCordle to represent them as alderman next year, because I know that he will not permit such a situation to drag on for as much as six years without action."

Special Revenue Bonds Can Sometimes Default

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Would you give me your opinion of the following tax-exempts: Triborough Bridge Authority, Massachusetts Turnpike, Port of New York Authority, New York State Power Authority, New York Thruway, and Florida Turnpike." S.P.

A) You have selected a pretty fair group of tax-exempts.

I believe I should point out to you, however, that all of the bonds you have listed are what is known as special revenue bonds. They are payable solely from revenue derived as a rule from toll charges and are not a charge on the general revenue of a state or city.

Although these bonds have a fine record, it is a fact that the Chicago Calumet Skyway Toll Bridge issue went into default this year, when the revenue failed to meet fixed charges.

For safety and diversification, I would substitute for two of these issues, State of California 3.10s on a 3.25 basis (when issued).

Q) "We have $3,000 in a savings account earning 4 per cent, and these are all the savings we have. My husband is presently thinking about going into business on his own. We have three children. Do you think it is wise for me to invest the $3,000 in stocks?" O.S.

A) I suggest that you leave your money right where it is. If your husband does go out on his own, he may find it necessary to channel nearly all the money he can right back into his own business. Your household income in this instance would be restricted and occasional dips into the savings account might be necessary.

If the $3,000 were invested, you would be taking from yourself the one source of funds always fully available in an emergency. And by investing you would be placing your money under risk — because all investments, no matter how good, contain an element of market risk.

Seize 7 Pounds Heroin in Raid At Suffolk County

HUNTINGTON STATION, N.Y. (AP)—Suffolk County police said today that seven pounds of pure heroin seized in a raid on an apartment here would be worth about $600,000 on the underworld retail market.

The raid was made Tuesday night by federal narcotics agents.

Arrested on charges of possession and sale of narcotics and conspiracy to violate federal narcotics laws were Frank Costello, 38, occupant of the apartment, and John Oliveri of Massapequa Park.

Mock War Starts

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The mock war started today for the 15,000 men of the U.S. Army's 2nd Armored Division flown from Texas to Germany during Exercise Big Lift.

The seven-day maneuvers started before dawn with an attack by an "aggressor" force from the 3rd Armored Division. The defending 2nd Armored was deployed in an area stretching from Darmstadt, south of Frankfurt, to Fulda, about 50 miles northeast.

In all 40,000 troops will participate.

Due to the fact that the Knaust Mushroom Company has gone out of business, the caves on Delaware Avenue in Kingston have been removed from the available shelter list. All power has been removed from the caves and they therefore cannot be heated or lighted. It is hoped that power and light can be restored to the caves so that they can be used as a shelter. They could accommodate more than 16,000 people and have a very high safety factor.

The above reflects the progress to date of the shelter program in Ulster County. As further progress is made, the Ulster County Civil Defense office will keep the public informed, Arnold said.

"Meantime," he added, "the Congress has been inhibited. Men who are elected to represent the people find themselves targets of abuse when they oppose major legislative programs. They are called do-nothing representatives."

TOWN OF HURLEY

The Democratic Candidates Are Pledged to:

1. A complete review of the assessment rolls to determine the reasons for the low school tax equalization rate of 19 and a program to obtain reconsideration of the rate. The lower the rate the higher the tax.
2. An overhaul of the system of road repair and snow removal. The present system provides for major road repairs in town election years only and snow removal that leaves citizens stranded on the roads in the winter months.
3. Initiate a program to investigate sanitation and sewage disposal to protect the health of the people with County, State and Federal aid.
4. Plan for adequate recreational facilities for the children within the Town of Hurley. We are spending large amounts of money to transport children to distant facilities. Proper Planning can reduce the burden on the taxpayers.
5. In cooperation with Fire Commissioners in all districts survey the need for fire equipment and additional water supply. Fire insurance premiums for all citizens can be reduced by an intelligent survey and adequate fire protection.
6. Provide planning and zoning regulations recommended by a non-partisan committee to protect the rights and property OF ALL OF THE CITIZENS OF HURLEY.
7. Complete compliance with town law in the levying of taxes, the purchase of equipment and material and all other details of the town law to eliminate the criticism of the present administration's method by the State Bureau of Audit and Control.
8. Ample public notice of all Town Board meetings and hearings with information as to the agenda. Complete disclosure of all financial transactions at each Town Board meeting. Re-establishment of the right of free speech by eliminating the "month

Newburgh-Beacon Bus to Lower Fares

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized the Newburgh-Beacon Bus Corp. to lower fares for through trips between points in Newburgh and Beacon.

Under the new tariff, the fare will be 45 cents between Newburgh and Beacon, but the rider will be able to continue his trip in Newburgh either on buses which continue over routes in that city or by free transfer to others.

The new tariff becomes effective Nov. 2.

The company said the new fare schedule will produce about $70,500 in additional revenue yearly.

Slates Through Flights

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Trans-State Airlines, a new intrastate line, has scheduled non-stop passenger flights between Buffalo and New York City starting Nov. 25.

The Federal Aviation Agency must certify the airline before it can begin operations. Approval is expected within a week, the airline said Tuesday.

Trans-State has scheduled four round-trip flights originating in each city Monday through Friday. Service on Saturday and Sunday will be limited to two round trips each day.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The flow of American investment dollars abroad, especially to the Common Market, is slowing down. Once hailed as a good thing both for the American and European economies, such spending of late has become a worry to those seeking to cut U.S. deficits in world dealings.

Washington reports that threats of new taxes are holding down sales of foreign securities to Americans keeping such hot money at home and trimming the loss of U.S. dollars and gold.

The big rush of U.S. corporations to build plants overseas appears to have tired. And a larger proportion of such expansion is being financed abroad rather than with additional Yankee dollars.

Chemical Firms Left

The auto industry seems to have completed most of its European ventures. The chief remaining increase in spending there now is by U.S. chemical firms. The total of U.S. manufacturing expansion in Western Europe this year is a bit below last year, and American firms tell the U.S. Department of Commerce that next year's spending will be down still more.

Part of the slowdown in American business spending in the Common Market may be due to increased opposition there to what they fear will be American domination of their industries.

Big Growth Peaking Out

But part of the lag may be due to the signs that the big growth in the European economy in recent years is peaking out, too.

Most interesting to Washington monetary officials is that this year the worldwide investments of U.S. manufacturing, petroleum and mining companies is calling for only 16 per cent additional funds financed from U.S. sources. The rest of the cost is being borne by earnings and funds generated abroad by previous U.S. investments there.

This is important just now because the United States is trying to trim the flow of dollars abroad and to raise the influx of funds from abroad. It has been running a deficit for so many years now that the big piles of dollars held by foreigners threaten U.S. gold reserves and could, if the situation should worsen, cast doubts on the value of the dollar.

Still Sizeable Figure

While the buildup in American investments overseas seem to be slowing now, it is still a sizeable figure—an estimated $4.9 billion this year, compared with $3.7 billion in 1959.

If money generated overseas pays the major share of that expenditure, and if other earnings abroad flow back to the United States, American investments could be a minor worry for Washington officials seeking to hold down the net outflow of dollars.

The major problems would be the outlays for foreign economic and military aid and for maintenance of U.S. military forces abroad, plus the danger of any sudden rush of short-term money to more lucrative markets.

Phoenicia Vols To Sponsor New Explorer Post 60

M. F. Whitney Hose Co., of Phoenicia, is sponsoring an Explorer Post to provide the boys of the Town of Shandaken a complete roster of activities offered by the Boy Scouts of America.

The new post will be the third member of the scouting family to carry the numeral 60. The others are Cub Scout Pack 60 and Scout Troop 60. Membership in the Phoenicia Post will be open for boys between the ages of 14 and 17 inclusive.

Plans for the new Explorer Post were discussed at a recent meeting held in the clubhouse of the Phoenicia Fish and Game Association Inc. Attending the session were a representative of the Rip Van Winkle Council, members of the M. F. Whitney Hose Co. and committee members of Troop and Pack 60. A nucleus of the advisory committee for the new post was formed from which the Post Advisor, similar to scoutmaster, will be selected.

A college in the form of a series of three training meetings will be held at the Simpson Ski Slope clubhouse on Nov. 14, 21 and Dec. 12 for all fathers of boys between the ages of 14 and 17 inclusive, who are interested. Meetings will start at 7:30 p. m. sharp and last two hours.

Exploring differs from scouting in that the boys are organized more on the basis of a club with a president and officers. They conduct their own meetings and make their plans for projects. Their advisor and advisory committee members function only as consultants.

Some boys now members of Troop 60 plan to transfer to Post 60. However, a boy who has never been a cub or a scout can join the Explorer Post.

The sponsors are greatly enthused over the new Explorer Post and believe that the boys of Shandaken and their parents will share their enthusiasm. For this reason the sponsors urge all fathers who have sons in the required age bracket attend the meetings and find out first hand the benefits this new organization will provide for their boys.

we took this big V8 and put it in the '64 Chevy II...

Chevy II Nova 4-Door Station Wagon.
Luggage carrier rack shown, optional at extra cost.

WOW!

A pretty potent mixture.

The car's the same size. As trim and easy to handle as ever. But now you can have a full-grown V8 in it. A Turbo-Fire 283* that turns out 195 hp.

It's the kind of machine that doesn't take much coaxing to set in motion. (Especially when you consider it has over 60% more power than the Chevy II that won North America's toughest rally last spring—the Shell "4,000.")

And we've also added a choice of a 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission* with a floor-mounted shift.

But in case your tastes run somewhat milder, we should point out you have a pick of three other engines as well. The standard 4 (on 100 Series sedans), the standard 6 and a new 155-hp 6*.

And, of course, whatever one you decide on, it's reassuring to know you're getting a car built with the pure and simple integrity of a Chevy II. (Upkeep has been even further reduced this year by such refinements as larger self-adjusting brakes.)

It's a simple matter to spot one of these '64's by styling touches like the new grille design and trim accents. But we'd like to suggest a more memorable way. Drop down to your dealer's and drive one.

*Optional at extra cost.

May Break Congress Stalemate on Kinzua

A break may be in sight in the congressional deadlock which threatened to stymie continued work at the Kinzua Dam and Reservoir in Pennsylvania New York.

But whether it will come in time to prevent at least a temporary halt of work at the big Allegheny River flood control project is still uncertain.

Chairman Clifford David, D-Tenn., of the House Public Works Subcommittee which handles river basin projects, said a conference with the Senate to iron out differences in river basin bills is "very likely."

He said nothing has been decided yet but "It's cooking now."

The Army Engineers have said letters will be sent Nov. 1 advising contractors that within 30 days its spending authority in the Ohio River Basin, which includes the Kinzua project, will have been exhausted.

Dentist Hurt in Fall

Dr. Paul Perlman, well-known dentist with offices at 260 Fair Street, was injured at about 7:45 p. m. Tuesday when he reportedly fell on the patio of a carport at his Woodstock home. He was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance, suffering head and shoulder injuries. Before noon today his condition was listed as "satisfactory."

225 Attend Oral Cancer Meeting

More than 225 dentists and physicians attended a recent all-day symposium on Oral Cancer Detection in Daily Practice at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Among those in attendance was Sister M. Charles, administrator of Benedictine Hospital, this city.

The program was sponsored by the Dutchess County Dental Society, the Medical Society of that county; the N. Y. State Department of Health, Bureau of Cancer Control; U. S. Public Health Service, Bureau of Cancer Control and the Dutchess County Branch of the N. Y. State Division of the American Cancer Society.

Among the highlight points stressed during the symposium were:

Tobacco was listed as the No. 1 causative agent of oral cancer by Dr. Hollon W. Farr, associate attending surgeon of head and neck service, who suggested the full use of material that is now available for anti-smoking campaigns from Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo.

Dr. Henry C. Sandier, chief of dental service, Veterans Administration Hospital, Brooklyn, said that oral cancer will strike approximately 39,000 persons yearly and that 90 per cent of these cases can be saved by early detection and prompt treatment.

Speaker Listed For ASQC Nov. 7

DELL K. TOWER

The American Society for Quality Control will hold its monthly dinner meeting, Thursday, Nov. 7, at the Covered Wagon, Poughkeepsie.

Dell K. Tower, general production manager of Daystrom Electric Co., Poughkeepsie, will be the speaker.

Tower's topic will be Product Engineering, another phase of the 1963-1964 program theme, PRODUCT SPAN—Idea to Use. At each monthly meeting speakers from industries of Dutchess County will define a specific phase of a robot's evolution from its inception through eventual use by a customer.

There are still a few tickets available for the annual Ladies Night dinner of A. H. Wicks Engine Company to be held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, Nov. 9, at 7 p. m. Reservations should be made now by contacting either Joseph Fassbender, president of the fire company or Morton Finch, chairman of the dinner committee.

Family Problems To Be Topic of Institute Panel

Among panelists at the afternoon session of the second annual institute of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health will be the Rev. Arthur M. Tigue, executive director of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry.

The institute will be conducted at the Campus School of the State University at New Paltz Friday 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Other panelists who will consider community approaches to resolving family problems will be Dr. E. Drisko, Dr. H. Karowe, Dr. W. Smith.

The morning session will be devoted to examining the nature of family problems. Reservations may be made by contacting the Mental Health Association office or Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, chairman.

The Rev. Mr. Tigue, an ordained Methodist minister, earned his BA degree in psychology at Cornell University and his divinity degree at Drew University. He had done graduate work at Drew and Columbia Universities with emphasis on pastoral and marriage counseling.

He became associated with the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry as pastoral counselor in 1956 and was appointed to his present post with the foundation last year. He has published a number of articles on counseling and is an active member of many counseling organizations.

Planning Panel Discussions Set At Middletown

Four nationally known experts will lead panel discussions at the Goals for the Hudson-Delaware Region Planning Conference which will take place, Saturday at Orange County Community College.

The morning session of the conference will deal with problems relating to many phases of planning that will be facing Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster Counties in the next 25 years. The afternoon conference will work towards proposed solutions acceptable to the citizens of the four-county area.

Those leading discussions will be William B. Shore, information director of the Regional Plan Association; Harold Wise, planning consultant to states of New York, Pennsylvania, California and Hawaii; William N. Cassella, assistant director, National Municipal League of New York; and Joseph Leiper, director of transportation planning, Department of City Planning, New York.

Conference will start 10 a. m. with registration and coffee at 9:30 a. m.

PRETTY—AND CORNY—Making whiskers of corn silk is a fun-time project for Carol Buck, left, and Marie Criswell. There's no joking about the corn patch, however. It is located in the seeds research nursery of the Missouri Farmers Association, near Marshall.

Industrial Group
Schedules Second
Forum on Monday

The second forum meeting of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association's 1963-64 series will be held Monday, Nov. 4, in the Venetian Room of Aloy's Garden Restaurant, Poughkeepsie. The 7 p. m. dinner meeting will be preceded by a social hour starting at 6 p. m.

This will be another in the series of educational and informative topics for the enlightenment of management. Speaker will be Joseph R. Shaw, president of Associated Industries of New York State, Inc., who has selected as the title of his talk, The Unfinished Job.

Shaw has been associated with the State Association for approximately 20 years and has taken a leading part in the promotion of legislation that has witnessed great advances in the development of legislation for the improvement of the business climate in the State of New York. In addition to many committee assignments he has accepted in the State of New York, Shaw last July, became chairman of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission. Known as ORSANCE, the Commission is a joint endeavor by eight states in the Ohio River Drainage Basin to clean up their streams and to conserve water resources for the benefit of all. Member states are New York, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Shaw as president of Associated Industries of New York, Inc. is the chief executive officer of an organization comprising industrial firms from the largest down to the smallest throughout the Empire State and together employing a major portion of the State's labor force.

Arrangements for the meeting are under the direction of the Forum Committee consisting of Henry J. Schwellenbach, vice president-production, New York Trap Rock Corp., chairman; James W. Efron, partner, Efron Fuel Oil Co.; Kenneth B. Mesler, assistant to the president, Fallkill National Bank & Trust Co.; David A. Schrom, plant manager, The De Laval Separator Co.; Howard W. Smith Co.; Howard W. Smith, president, Pawling Rubber Corp. and Henry R. Wengen, vice president, Fargo Mfg. Company, Inc.

Carl E. Cummings, professional development director, Texaco, Inc. and president of The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association, will preside, and the speaker will be introduced by Mr. Schwellenbach, vice president of the Association.

Benjamin J. Van Wickler, executive secretary of the Association, said the forum meetings are always open to associates and guests of members as well as anyone interested in the topic under discussion.

Krebiozen Serum

Editor, The Freeman:

Re your editorial October 21 concerning Krebiozen. Said article was a masterpiece of half-truths. To an intelligent reader who is aware of the smear Krebiozen campaign your paragraph stating "After a careful review the committee expressed the unanimous opinion that Krebiozen is ineffective as an anti-tumor agent and recommended that no clinical trial of the drug be undertaken. Please note the phrase "No clinical trial." That makes them laugh. To everyone who has been informed about Krebiozen that's the same old baloney the anti-Krebiozen bunch have been pulling for years. Strangely enough the fact that Krebiozen has been used effectively in European countries is never stressed.

Well no one is forced to be treated by Krebiozen, but speaking for myself and many of my friends—if we were to find ourselves faced with cancer—we'd try Krebiozen if we had to crawl on our knees to get to it.

DOROTHY GALITZKY

Editor's Note: Federal authorities declare Krebiozen is worthless and Dr. Edward Annis, president of the American Medical Association, calls it one of the greatest frauds of the 20th Century.

MODENA NEWS

MODENA—Tickets are available locally for the annual turkey supper to be served Saturday evening, Nov. 16, in the Plattkill Grange Hall. Music for dancing, following the supper, will be furnished by the Kentucky Moonshiners. At a meeting of the Grange Friday evening, Oct. 25, attended by local members there was a display of the posters made for Fire Prevention Week, by the pupils in the Plattkill Elementary School. A contest was arranged by the lecturer, Mrs. John Lenio, children in grades 1-5, 4-6 participating. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser were chairman of the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Burton Ward was a visitor in Kingston Friday. Mrs. Gerald DuBois represented the executive committee of the New Paltz 4-H Club, at the Eastern District conference at Stony Creek. Mrs. DuBois is project leader in the Modena Unit of the Ulster County Home Extension Service.

Wesleyan Service Guild members from Newburgh, Middle Hope, Cornwall, Goshen, Middletown, Liberty and Monticello, attended the annual fall district meeting, in the Modena Methodist Church and Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, on Saturday. Luncheon was served by the Modena Guild members. The meeting opened with registration, workshop period and a coffee break. Various phases of Guild work was discussed, including use of the program book, how to organize and conduct study classes, how to plan workshop services and church-related program ideas. During the afternoon program, workshop services were conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Blohm. Guest speaker was the Rev. Douglas Verdin, superintendent of the Newburgh District of the Methodist Church. Others on the program were Miss Doris Frost, conference secretary of the Wesleyan Guild, and Mrs. Robert Lorenzen, president of the Newburgh District WSCS. Mrs. Frank Walter, Newburgh District secretary of the Wesleyan Service Guild conducted the meeting, and organist was Mrs. John Post.

Local members of the Ulster County Home Bureau and County Women's Committee, attended the annual dinner-meeting held last Thursday evening at the Old House, Rt. 44-55, east of Clintondale. At this time, a corsage of roses was presented Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker of New Hurley, the former Rosalyn DeWitt of Modena, retiring president of the Women's Committee, in recognition of three years service in the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and children of Clintondale, visited relatives here, Friday evening.

The Yankees made seven double plays to one for the Dodgers in the 1963 World Series.

Negro Silent After Admitting Brutal Killing of Woman

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A youthful ex-convict has admitted killing Mrs. Fred Turner, wife of a wealthy oilman and racehorse owner. She was bludgeoned Tuesday during a burglary attempt in the family's palatial home.

Police said James L. Marion, 22, a Midland Negro, was charged with murder and jailed. He told newsmen Tuesday night: "I don't want to talk."

Slugged Daughter, Fled
Mrs. Turner, 66, was so badly beaten about the face that it was first thought she had been shot.

Marion fled after slugging a daughter of the slain woman. Officers pulled him from an attic hiding place in a house two blocks distant a bit later and he admitted the killing.

Marion finished serving a state prison sentence for burglary last June.

Relatives discovered Mrs. Turner's body shortly after 7:30 a.m. Although a wall safe in a closet was open and empty, topsturdy drawers in her dressing room still contained a fortune in diamonds she had battled to save.

A brother-in-law, Uel Stephens of Fort Worth, estimated the assorted diamond brooches, pins, were worth $500,000.

Alone at Time
Mrs. Turner was alone in the house. Her husband was at Las Vegas, N.M., where he has extensive ranching interests. He quickly flew home.

Marion told questioners he gathered loot for several hours before discovering there was anyone in the darkened house.

He said that after knocking a hole in Mrs. Turner's bedroom door "I heard somebody say 'I'm going to shoot you.'"

"A shot was fired," he said, "and I saw her standing on the balcony."

Marion seized the gun and Mrs. Turner sat in the room, he continued, while he searched various drawers.

He laid down the pistol, Mrs. Turner grabbed it and again he wrestled it from her, the prisoner related, adding:

"That was when I hit her the first time... she got up again and got something in her hand. It was a cane or something. I took it away from her and hit her two more times with her gun."

She crumpled to the floor.

Gets Ossining Term
Charged with the fatal stabbing of a woman neighbor on August 13, Charles W. Sanders, 50, of 140 1/2 Church Street, Poughkeepsie, today was sentenced to 25 years to life in Sing Sing prison. Sanders previously pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the stabbing of a neighbor, Lucille McGue, who occupied a second floor apartment at the Poughkeepsie address. Sentence was imposed by Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz.

For Family Court
A third degree assault charge against Howard Quick Jr., 23, of Lincoln Street, was referred to Family Court today in City Court. It was lodged Sunday by his wife, Joan Quick.

Near Critical Stage In Rescue at Mine

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Rescuers drilled to within 62 feet of three miners trapped in an underwater air bubble before halting operations early today to prepare for the most critical phase of the rescue.

If all goes well, the three are expected to be freed by late Thursday — ending a weeklong entombment 250 feet below ground in an iron mine that was flooded when a nearby dam broke.

Eighty-six miners escaped, but 40 others are unaccounted for and are believed drowned.

Hurley Candidate Asks for Dates of Snow Emergencies

J. Joseph Carroll, Democratic candidate for supervisor of the Town of Hurley, today said "the people of Hurley have no objection to the use of any or all facilities in an emergency, but vote seeking, or vote retaining, is not an emergency."

Carroll issued a statement today in answer to Supervisor Charles Relyea, Republican incumbent, who yesterday charged that the town was not "negligent" in plowing and repairing private roads in the township, and that the town "would continue to do so" if requested by a doctor or fire commissioner.

Relyea's statement published Tuesday, was in reply to a statement by Carroll, who said a taxpayers' action had been filed in Ulster County Supreme Court against the town, charging illegal use of town equipment and employees on privately owned roads and property.

Carroll's statement today said: "The press and radio have given complete and fair coverage to the news about the alleged illegal use of Town equipment in Hurley."

"My opponent has said snow plowing has always been done in emergencies by both Democratic and Republican administrations. I ask my opponent to give to the taxpayers the date and time of each 'emergency' on this road and the number of times in total that town equipment has worked on this particular private road."

*Continuing, Carroll said: "The people of Hurley have no objection to the use of any or all facilities in an emergency—but vote seeking—or vote retaining—is not an emergency. My personal investigation and observation of the road in question has convinced me that the plaintiffs in this court action are not politicians. As citizens they have followed the American custom of appealing to the courts to remedy a bad situation costly to all taxpayers, the supervisor's explanation notwithstanding."

Stating he had no desire to engage in a debate on the issue which the court will decide in due process, Carroll said, "Norman Kellar answering press and radio questions quite concisely pointed out that his clients were not engaged in politics."

Crushed Under Grader
SEWARD, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph G. Kniskern, 69, of Dorlo, died Tuesday as a road grader backed over him while he was working on a highway in this Schoharie County community.

Coroner Franz Konta said Kniskern might have suffered a heart attack before he was crushed under the grader.

Two Motors Stolen
Police were notified Tuesday afternoon that two electric motors had been taken from the Jesse Chambers property, 631 Abell Street, by someone who hauled them away in a truck. The report said an attempt had been made to sell the motors at an Abell Street surplus shop.

League of Women Voters Hears Candidates Speak

Candidates of both major political parties on Tuesday night discussed the issues of the November election campaign at Candidates' Night sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

As publicity chairman of the League, Mrs. W. Jack Kahn gave this report of the event:

Mayor John J. Schwenk (R) stated that he had kept every campaign promise that was "humanly possible" such as reduction of parking meter fees, moderate reduction of taxes and the development of two city owned parking lots.

Democratic candidate for mayor, Frank Sass claimed that the Democratic majority in the Common Council could have halted the mayor's progress, but instead supported all programs for public good. He also felt that many of the steps forward of the Schwenk administration were initiated under the previous Democratic administration.

The Democratic party created the problem in the Police Department by not giving raises, Mayor Schwenk charged. Sass stated, however, that raises were given in 1958 and later benefits were given which increased take-home pay.

Eleventh Ward Alderman Joseph F. Carroll Jr., Republican candidate for alderman-at-large criticized the length of the recesses at Common Council meetings as discouraging the public from attending. As alderman-at-large, he would not permit behavior degrading to the Council. He labeled some of this behavior as "a spectacle." He said committee assignments in the council should be according to experience and ability.

Ninth Ward Alderman Francis R. Koenig, Democratic opponent of Carroll, agreed that meetings could be improved. He listed his past experience in city government and his qualifications. Koenig stated that since he is self employed, he would be able to arrange his own hours for city work. He disagreed about "spectacles" at the meetings.

Candidates for judge of the Family Court discussed their concepts of this newly-created court for this area. Vernon Murphy (D) said that the court is in an experimental stage and requires "administrative aggressiveness." He felt it should be decentralized and have agencies around the county. He also felt there should be a permanent committee of the Family Court.

Hugh R. Elwyn (R) felt that the Family Court is a unique court dealing in the complexities of family life. The court is more than a social agency, he said. Due process of the law must be observed at all times.

Attorney Murphy disagreed stating that every court is a social agency and the due process of law has been extended in the Family Court.

Elwyn felt that he and Murphy agree basically, but that there was a difference in emphasis.

Orrie R. Riehl, Democratic candidate for county clerk said that 50 years is too long a time for one party to have held the office.

Incumbent Lawrence Craft, seeking re-election, said he has been the best servant he knows how to be.

Joseph Roach, Democratic candidate for coroner was unable to attend because of employment. William S. Keyser, Republican, listed his qualifications. He felt that the office of coroner should be handled with dignity and the official should be non-partisan.

Harry Rigby Jr., city historian, and president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, was moderator, and Mrs. David Gerberg, president of the League of Women Voters, presided.

Says 74 Drowned As Launch Sank

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Huge waves sank the motor launch Lematung in the Java Sea off South Sumatra Oct. 10 and 74 persons drowned, the Antara news agency said today. It reported five crew members were rescued by a passing vessel, after drifting for 10 days without food or water, but one of them died aboard ship.

Ford Sets Sales
High But Profit
Dips Under Two

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. set a nine months' sales record this year, but its profit picture wasn't as rosy as that of Chrysler or General Motors. Tuesday Ford became the last of the nation's three biggest auto makers to file its financial report for the first three-quarters of 1963.

All reports agreed the auto business has been very good. For economists who consider the auto industry a key indicator of the nation's business situation, there was heartening news.

GM in its third-quarter report Monday said its profits through September exceeded a billion dollars. Chrysler reported over $100 million in the same period.

Ford sales for the first nine months this year were almost $6.2 billion with profits of $346 million, or $3.14 a share. The previous record for a nine-month period was in 1962 when sales were about $5.8 billion, with profits of $350 million, or $3.18 a share.

There was no comment on the decline in profits in the report to Ford shareholders, which was signed by Henry Ford II. An examination of the figures told the story: Of eight domestic Ford cars only two—Ford and Mercury—showed an increase in the first nine months of this year over production for the same period of 1962. The Fairlane, Falcon, Thunderbird, Meteor, Comet and Continental showed declines. The Mercury Meteor was discontinued this year.

Explaining the small drop in profits, Ford spokesmen said increased costs of materials and increased wages are among the factors involved. They also cited "unusually heavy expenses in tooling up for our 1964 models."

Thruway Office Reports Record Highway Travel

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Motorists traveled a record 2,158,424, 855 miles on the New York State Thruway during the first nine months of 1963, the Thruway Authority reported today.

The figures show that travel on the 559-mile superhighway is running 134,066,041 miles ahead of last year's pace.

At that rate, barring adverse weather during November and December, this year's total Thruway mileage would top last year's record total of 2,586,119, 222 miles.

R. Burdell Bixby, Thruway Authority Chairman, also reported that revenue for the first three-quarters totaled $51,784, 269, up 7.29 per cent from the corresponding period a year ago.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Some television series, like thoroughbred horses and royal families, have recorded blood lines. Others just grow.

Some are direct descendants of popular books—"Perry Mason" and "The Virginian." Others, including "Dr. Kildare," trace their ancestry to old movies.

"The Defenders" emerged from a script, "The Defender," which with one lawyer, was a single show in a dramatic anthology several seasons back.

"Peticoat Junction" is a child of "The Beverly Hillbillies," but somehow has lost all family resemblance.

The Danny Thomas Show may be the most prolific television show. Close and distant relatives include The Dick Van Dyke Show, The Joey Bishop Show, The Bill Dana Show and The Andy Griffith Show.

By next season The Danny Thomas show may become a TV patriarch—with a third generation to its credit.

The Andy Griffith Show added last season as a country-style character who worked out so well that singer-turned actor Jim Nabors became a regular called Gomer Pyle. This season Gomer is around even more.

Jim had never acted before he joined the Griffith show. He had tried out for the part of nephew Jethro in "Beverly Hillbillies" and had been turned down on the grounds he wasn't handsome enough.

Television's top executives Tuesday were studying and worrying over the new and important Nielsen ratings, estimates of the size of audiences for the various network shows during the first two weeks of October. The fate of from eight to a dozen shows may hang on the figures and the ones released two weeks from now.

The Nielsen list of the most popular shows contained few surprises. "Beverly Hillbillies," continued to be its top-rated program. "Bonanza" followed trailed by Dick Van Dyke, Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith, "Peticoat Junction," Danny Thomas, Red Skelton, Perry Mason, Donna Reed, "I've Got a Secret" and "The Patty Duke Show," in that order including a couple of ties.

Among the shows with disappointing ratings—also anticipated—were the Judy Garland Show, the Jerry Lewis Show and "Espionage."

Recommended tonight: "Chronicle," CBS, 7:30 - 8:30 (EST) — a documentary about Blackpool, traditional summer resort of Britain's millworkers; "Espionage," NBC 9-10—Adventure story based on a real episode during the Irish Rebellion.

Levittown, N. J., Votes On New Name Nov. 5
LEVITTOWN, N. J. (AP) — They vote on a touchy subject here Tuesday—the name of the town.

Shall it remain the third Levittown in the nation, or revert to its original name of Willingboro, which dates back to 1688?

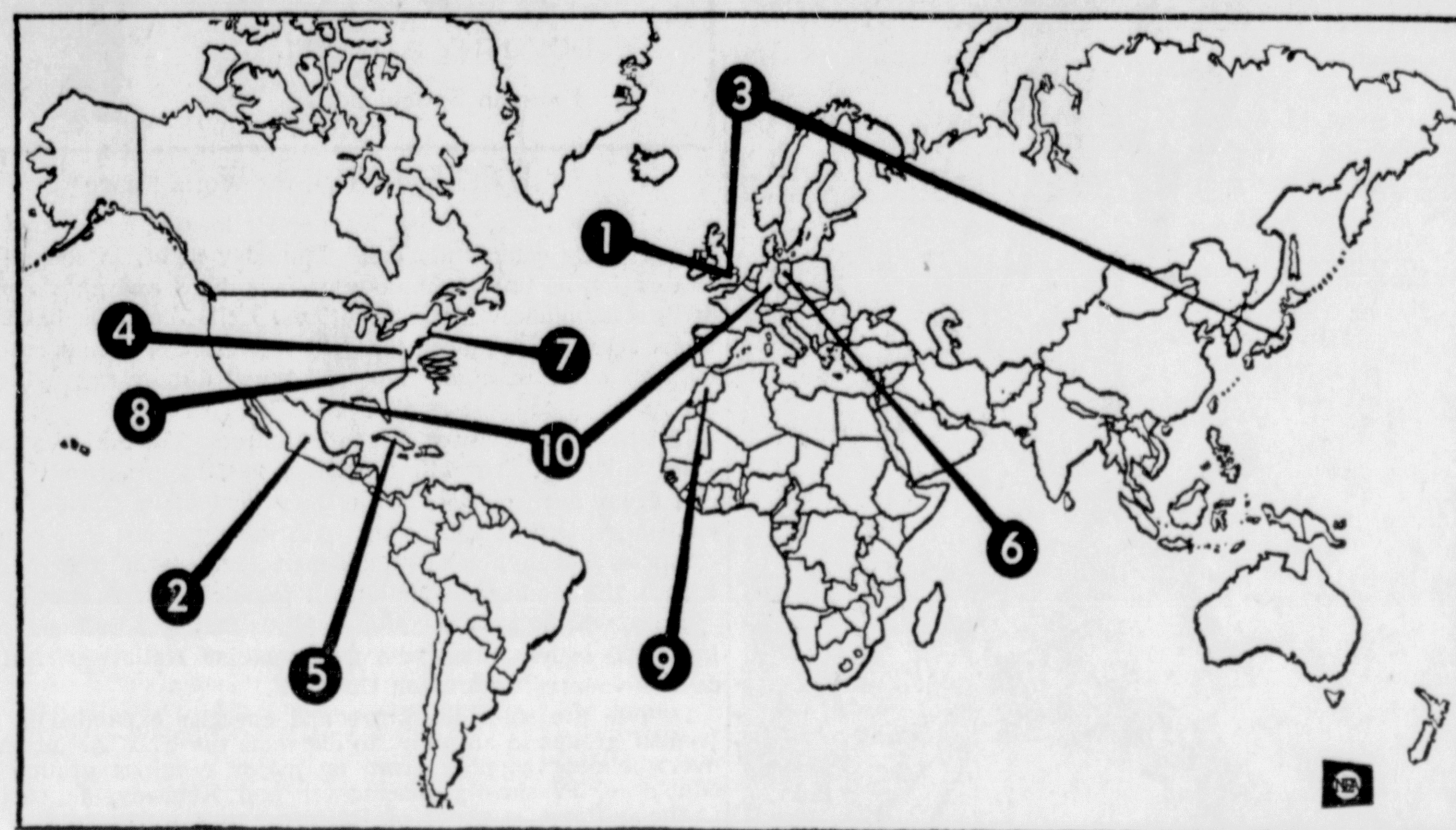

The campaign has been fought in the courts, on the streets and in the Levittown Life, a weekly newspaper.

The editor of the paper, Stanley Goldstein, 39, said the movement to restore the name to Willingboro started about a year ago as people became dissatisfied with being another Levittown.

They complained that their mail sometimes went to Levittown, N.Y., or Levittown, Pa., finally reaching them a week later.

WHAT AND WHERE?..... A news quiz game for readers

In each of the numbered spots marked on this map a newsworthy event occurred recently. As a newspaper reader, check your memory and your knowledge by identifying the event through the location. The accompanying box will help you do it.

Marchi Pledges New ID Fight In Legislature

LIBERTY, N.Y. (AP) — The Legislature will be asked again Tuesday night before the State Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association.

The Staten Island Republican is chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee for the Study of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law.

The committee last winter sponsored ID - card legislation that died in an Assembly committee after winning Senate approval.

Marchi pledged to make a new fight in the 1964 legislative session to bring about passage of an ID-card bill with changes designed to overcome opposition. He did not elaborate on what the changes will be.

The ID-card proposal came out of a study by Marchi's committee, which recommended keeping the minimum age at 18 for New York State residents but raising it to 21 for out-of-state residents who consume liquor here.

The recommendation ran into legislative trouble when critics argued that teen-agers would regard ID cars as "a drinking license" what they should procure and use as soon as they turned 18.

Patrolman Arrests 3 Brothers for Burglary

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP) — A drama of three brothers arrested by a fourth played its latest act in District Court Tuesday.

Francis and Peter Hoffman, 26-year-old twins, were placed on probation for burglarizing an automobile repair shop. Last month, their brother, Virgil, 27, was sentenced to two to three years for the same burglary. The three were arrested last March 9 by policeman Gilbert R. Hoffman, 29.

"They were my kin," the oldest brother said today. "But I knew what had to be done and I did it."

World Community Day Observances Set At St. James Friday

Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of the Ulster County Community College will be guest speaker at the annual World Community Day Friday 8 p. m. at St. James Methodist Church.

The program is sponsored by the United Council of Church Women. Dr. Lake's topic will be "Participating churches are Old Dutch, Fair Street, First Baptist, Clinton Avenue Methodist, First Presbyterian, Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion, Riverview Baptist, Redeemer Lutheran, African Union Methodist, Trinity Methodist, Comforter Reformed, St. John's Episcopal and Rondout Presbyterian."

World Community Day was started two decades ago as an observance toward peace. United Church Women have contributed their support to instrumentalities of the UN for the development of peace programs throughout the world.

Special project for the 20th anniversary year will provide opportunity for selected church women to participate in a program of international understanding. Other projects are layettes, good used children's clothing and new material for the needy.

Mrs. Casper Souers, president of the Kingston group, urges all church women to attend.

MRS. THOMAS W. TALMADGE (Kollar photo)

Miss Mary Lou Reis, Formerly of Kingston Is October Bride; to Reside on Long Island

Mrs. Mary Lou Reis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Reis of 137 Brook Street, Garden City, formerly of Kingston, was married Sunday, Oct. 27, in Garden City Community Church to Thomas White Talmadge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Talmadge of Garden City.

The Rev. Richard B. Smith and the Rev. Richard L. Winn officiated at the ceremony. The reception followed at the Steward Manor Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory peau de soie gown with a sheathed front and a bouffant back which terminated in a chapel train with cascade roses. Her bouffant veil was secured to a pillbox headpiece and she carried a prayer book with white bridal roses and stephanotis.

Miss Carole Lee Karlson of New Hyde Park was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Dorothy Ayers of Hempstead and Mrs. Henry E. Ostrom Jr. of Spring Valley.

They wore street length autumn gold sheath dresses with wateau back panels and small chrysanthemum hats of autumn gold velvet. The maid of honor carried pale yellow and rust colored pompons. Other attendants carried variegated rust colored pompons.

John P. A. Marcin of Garden City was best man. Ushers were Henry Ostrom Jr. of Spring Valley, Robert Nakushian of Great Neck, Charles Graf of Lynbrook and Henry C. Stoner of New York City.

The bride's brother, John P. Reis Jr. presented the vocal selections.

The bride, a granddaughter of Frank A. Reis of Kingston, was graduated from Adelphi College and is now a senior programmer for Computers Usage, New York City.

Mr. Talmadge received both a BA and MS from New York University and is now employed as a sales engineer for Westinghouse International Corporation, New York City.

After a wedding trip to Miami and Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge will be at home in Queens Village.

Orthodox Women Plan Attendance At Nov. Conference

Six delegates from Kingston will attend the 40th annual national convention of the Women's Branch, Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America, according to an announcement by Mrs. Sam Barnovitz, president of the Lower Hudson Valley Region of Women's Branch.

The delegates from Kingston will join with an expected 600 other delegates from the United States and Canada at the convention which will be held from November 17-20 at the Pioneer Country Club, Greenfield Park, N. Y.

Women's Branch is the national association of 600 sisterhoods of Orthodox congregations in two countries with a total membership of 70,000 women.

The delegates from Kingston are: the Mmes. Harry Friedman, Alex Gersh, Raphael Klein and Milton Paige. Mrs. Sam Barnovitz will attend as regional president.

The delegates will participate in the program and will hear a number of authorities in the field of synagogue youth programming, leadership training and related sisterhood activities. The theme of the four-day conclave will be "Forty Years—

UNICEF—A Tool for World Peace

All Hallow's Eve, Hallow Mass or Halloween, as we know it, will invade every community come Thursday night. In some areas the celebration of this night of witches, goblins and ghosts will have little resemblance to the traditional Celtic customs handed down to us from the time of the Middle Ages. As a matter of fact, some of our undisciplined juveniles will display mentalities below even that of the ape family.

But there's a brighter side to Halloween. The majority of youngsters will participate in fun-filled, healthy programs. They will call from door to door with their customary "Trick or Treat" challenges. Others will gather at Academy Green at 7 p. m. where Andrew Murphy, Kingston superintendent of recreation, will launch the traditional Halloween parade down Broadway.

There will be a third group—approximately 3 million Americans in 13,000 communities who will combine Halloween fun with a door-to-door collection for UNICEF.

Despite the snide literature and energies expended by our extremist groups in an effort to discredit the UNICEF program, the overwhelming support given by major religious groups, schools, educators, Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, as well as the Catholic Pope, is proof of the program's worth to the children in underdeveloped countries and its use as a tool for world peace.

The fact that the United States saw fit to provide skimmed milk powder from surplus stocks during the period of 1952-54 at low cost to UNICEF for shipment to child care projects in various countries, proves the respect and assistance our own country gives this program. So much so that since 1955 we have been furnishing free at shipside, additional supplies of skimmed milk powder.

This type of action on the part of our government, its educated, its religious leaders, leaves our broom-riding extremists looking much like gaslights did in the wake of the Electrical Age!

Just What Is UNICEF?

We must remember that people, not governments, do the fighting in war, and it is people who can build understanding between peoples all over the world in peace. Thus we build an economic framework for peace.

UNICEF, beginning right after the war, with a small budget and a great goal, has done much to build good feeling across national boundary lines. Its budget has grown, as have its goals; but so also has the number of people who now know both budget and goals and who give support to both.

Thirty nations serve on the executive board of the UNICEF committee. They work for and with children in the fields of nutrition, health and social welfare.

All income comes from voluntary contributions—governments (100 at last count), by individuals and by various organizations, churches and schools, and from educational programs such as our Halloween program. Few people seem to know that the UNICEF Halloween program is conducted in Canada also.

The program receives money from the sale of UNICEF greeting cards, notepaper, records and books.

As for governments—each decides how much to contribute. In our country, it is decided by Congress. As far back as 1959, America contributed $11 million — another example of the overwhelming support we give UNICEF, its goals and purposes.

The most intensive UNICEF work is done in four major areas of need: maternal and child welfare centers with trained personnel to operate them; disease control—includes campaign to control and eradicate diseases affecting large numbers of children, such as Malaria, TB, Yaws, Trachoma and Leprosy; nutrition programs; and emergency aid for relief of children and mothers in disaster areas.

It might be well to remember that UNICEF is a purchaser of large amounts of consumer goods. These are bought, insofar as possible, in the countries where they are produced. There are literally thousands of items purchased by UNICEF each year. Their purchase and transportation help to keep business healthy, as well as to giving aid to the needy.

From the United States and the United Kingdom UNICEF purchases sanitation equipment, diesel engines, antibiotics, laboratory supplies, chemicals, film, fruit trees, milk, food and many other items.

So when a youngster comes to your door Thursday night and extends the UNICEF container for your penny contribution, remember that through UNICEF assisted programs, approximately 24 million children and mothers were protected from malaria last year and almost 6 million benefited from more than 170 food processing plants and 23,000 health centers which UNICEF helped to equip.

Containers for the UNICEF campaign may be obtained from the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, this city. Also participating thus far are students at the Rondout Valley High School, under the direction of Ralph Swenson, faculty member, and Kripplbush young people.

Progress Through Understanding. Views of the organization on a variety of public issues, Jewish and general, will be evaluated and expressed in resolutions to be adopted during the convention.

FAILURE TO KEEP AN ENGAGEMENT

Q: I made an appointment with a friend to go to the movies. When I went to her house, she told me that a friend had dropped in unexpectedly to visit her and would I mind if she didn't go to the movies. She asked me to join them but I said "no," and as I didn't feel like going to the movies alone, I went home.

I was very much annoyed with my friend and feel she was wrong to break the appointment, even though it was only to go to a movie with a girl friend, and that she should have told her other friend that she was going out. Am I right about this?

A: I agree with you. She should have told her friend when she arrived that she had an appointment to go to the movies with you and asked her if she would like to go along. If she said "no," your friend should have then said she was sorry and asked her to come in other time.

Receiving At Silver Wedding Anniversary

Q: Where should my husband and I receive and who should stand with us, at our silver wedding anniversary celebration? Only one of our attendants can be present. What part should our children take?

A: You and your husband stand together just inside the door of the room in which you will receive. It is not expected, but it will be very nice to ask the attendant you speak of, to receive with you. Your children make themselves agreeable by circulating among your guests and seeing that none of them appear to be in any way neglected.

White or Colored Shirts

Q: When going to a party where the men are not wearing evening clothes, but dark business suits, is a white shirt a must, or may a colored shirt be worn?

A: White shirts are not necessary, but are definitely preferred to colored ones.

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, at The Freeman.

Three CYO Programs Announced; First Is Dance on Friday

The first in a series of monthly dances for CYO Teenagers will be held this Friday evening at St. Joseph's School, on Wall Street, Kingston.

All CYO members and their friends are invited to dance to the music of Johnny Vigna and his orchestra, furnished through the courtesy of Local 215 American Federation of Musicians. Dancing will be from 8:30 p. m. to 11:30. No admission will be charged. Refreshments will be available.

A program is being prepared by a committee for these dances which will be held throughout the county during the coming months with various CYO Clubs as hosts. Each dance will have a special theme and halls will be decorated accordingly.

CYO Convention

A number of Teenagers from Ulster County Council of Teenage Clubs are planning to join more than 6,000 from all over the U. S. and territories in the National CYO convention.

To date more than 4,500 reservations have been received from all of the 50 states for the convention which will be held at the New York Hilton Hotel, Rockefeller Center, New York. A limited number representing clubs in Ulster have been invited to attend the sessions on November 14-17. Those desiring to attend may make reservations or secure information from Ulster County Director Leo A. Schupp. The convention will feature a semi-formal convention cotillion luncheon and panel sessions along with election of national officers.

O'Neill Play Now In Production Here; Coach House Players

The Coach House Players forthcoming production AH, WILDERNESS is a delightful story of family life. To those who think of Eugene O'Neill as a writer of only the tragic and sordid it will come as a distinct surprise. It has been said he wrote the play "as a kind of parenthesis." At the time he was working on a serious play, DAYS WITHOUT END. He seemed to have come to a stalemate and put aside working on it for a few weeks. The following morning he awoke with the plot of AH, WILDERNESS completely developed in his mind.

The main theme of the play is taken from an incident of his own adolescence which he recalls with an affectionate nostalgia.

The play is laid at the turn of the century in an ordinary American family with typical humors which they enjoy and with typical problems which they have the strength to solve. The central figure is Richard Miller, 16, just out of high school and in love with a neighbor's daughter. His letters to her in which he quotes Swinburne alarm her father, who in turn makes a scene with Richard's father, Nat. Nat's faith in his son throughout the play is heartwarming.

The subsequent complications in which Richard is first disillusioned and then restored to happiness; his encounter with a painted lady; the whole fiber of family life with its joys and sorrows is beguiling and furnishes an evening of delightful entertainment.

Season tickets for Coach House Players productions are now on sale and may be purchased from any member. Persons interested in either attending the plays or taking an active part in production may contact the Players at 12 Augusta Street. The organization is a non-profit Community Theatre and is affiliated with the New York State Community Theatre Association.

George Copeland Will Give Piano Recital At Bard November 4

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON, N. Y.—George Copeland, eminent authority on composer Claude Debussy, will give a piano recital at Bard College on Monday, Nov. 4, at 8:30 p. m. The program will be presented in Bard Hall on the College campus. This is Mr. Copeland's second performance at Bard College. The public is invited.

Famous as an interpreter of Debussy, Mr. Copeland introduced Debussy's works to American audiences in 1905 at Chickering Hall, Boston. In August, 1962, the 100th anniversary of the composer's birth, Station WNYC, New York presented George Copeland in interview and performance.

Mr. Copeland, who celebrated his own 80th birthday in April 1962, is the only living pianist who actually knew Claude Debussy and bears the stamp of his interpretations.

JAYCEES WELCOME STATE HEAD—Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce this week welcomed New York State Jaycee President Alfred M. Helo and escorted him on a tour of the Jaycees town projects. They visited the Jaycee park project on Partition Street, the Welcome to Saugerties sign on Route 9W and Glasco Turnpike, and the Barclay Heights recreation park site. During the meeting the local Jaycees presented Helo with a plaque representing the first tree cut down to make way for the park. The inscription says, "The heart of this tree was sacrificed that the youth of Saugerties can be strengthened." It was mounted on a section of the cut down tree. With the state president here are (l-r) Ralph Quosig, external vice president; George Lombardo, president; Helo; E. Kaplan, Mid-Hudson Valley national director; and Donald Neff, internal vice president of the local Jaycees.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

LWV to Instruct Class on Voting Tonight at 8 P. M.

Saugerties Provisional League of Women Voters will instruct the proper use of voting machines for new voters between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight at Saugerties Municipal Building, Partition Street.

Edward Flanagan will show how to vote correctly and how the votes are recorded.

Each year a good percentage of void votes are cast because the voter does not use the machine properly, the League stated.

The league urges all who are able to vote Tuesday, Nov. 5 during the daylight hours in order to permit those who work during the day to cast ballots without delay due to crowded conditions.

Voting hours are from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The League also urges all to learn about the proposed amendments to the State Constitution and cast ballots for or against the proposals listed across the top row of the voting machines.

The League is distributing a free copy of Facts for Voters in which the amendments are outlined. Copies are available by calling Mrs. Charles Steele, 119 Main Street, Saugerties.

This information is published by the League of Women Voters as a non-partisan organization. It does not support or oppose any of the amendments. Mrs. Steele is voter service chairman.

Jaycees Support Amendment No. 1 On Nov. 5 Ballot

Support of Amendment No. 1 on the Nov. 5 ballot, calling for a broader residential eligibility for voters was approved at a recent meeting of Saugerties Jaycees.

Alfred M. Helo, Jaycees state president, addressed the group and remarked on the effectiveness of a Jaycees local to undertake projects of significant benefit to the community. He cited the example of the Syracuse Jaycees who introduced Amendment 1 for state legislative action in 1961.

Saugerties Jaycees have supported Syracuse's action at various state and regional meetings since 1961 because the present state residency requirements are not only outmoded, unrealistic, and unsuitable but, they constitute a subtle form of discrimination of otherwise qualified and informed voters.

Amendment 1 will accomplish the following:

1. Permit new state residents to cast ballots for president and vice president after 90 days, rather than the previous one year requirement.

2. Permit residents leaving the state to cast absentee ballots for these offices within one year of departure, if they cannot satisfy the voting requirements of their new state.

3. Permit voters otherwise qualified, who may be absent from their county on Election Day for any reason, to vote at such an election by means of an absentee ballot. The Jaycees feel the provisions of the outmoded Suffrage Article (over 100 years old) have caused millions of otherwise well qualified citizens to be disenfranchised.

In the 1960 Presidential elections, over 550,000 New York citizens were disenfranchised. This compares to one out of every 18 adults in the state. Due to the fact that the present day society is extremely mobile; 20 per cent of the entire U. S. population moves each year.

In the last presidential election (1960) over 6,000,000 mobile adults, qualified in all other respects, were unable to meet state, county or local electoral residency requirements. Yet these Americans paid over $3,000,000,000 in taxes to support the Federal Government through federal income tax alone.

For these reasons the Saugerties Jaycees support Amendment 1. They ask that all eligible voter cast their ballots on November 5.

Lutheran Church Activities Listed

Activities at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement, Market Street, Saugerties, were announced this week by the Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor.

At the 11 a. m. Sunday service a special commissioning service will be held for members of the church who will be taking part in the every member visitation to secure commitments of support for the church for 1964. Those homes will be visited where the members have not turned in their commitment cards up to November 3.

November 3 will also be observed as All Saints' Sunday. The names of members who have died since last All Saints' Day will be read before the altar.

Saturday, the confirmation classes meet at 9 a. m.; followed by rehearsal period from 10 to 10:30 a. m., class is open to any children not participating in other choirs.

Tuesday, Nov. 5, 6:45 p. m. junior choir rehearsal.

Wednesday, Nov. 6, 7:30 p. m. monthly meeting of the Brotherhood. The meeting is held one day late due to Election Day.

The annual clothing appeal is being conducted among members of the congregation for Lutheran World Relief. Good used clothing, closed-toe, low-heeled shoes, baby clothes and bedding will be received. They should be left at the church or preferably the parish house.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mellander, Barclay Lane, Saugerties and their children Vivian, Dennis, Edwin and Susan will be received Sunday into membership of Atonement Lutheran Church by letter of transfer from St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Mt. Jewett, Pa.

7 Amendments On Ballot, Topic Of Monday Club

The seven proposed amendments to the State Constitution to appear on the Nov. 5 ballot were discussed at this week's meeting of Saugerties Monday Club held at the home of Mrs. Henry S. Hartley. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. William Ziegler, president.

The annual budget was reviewed. The program of the day was presented by Mrs. George L. Hildebrandt on "The Russian People Since the Revolution." Mrs. Hildebrandt emphasized the fact that much is read or heard about the Communist scheme of government and there is need for more knowledge by Democratic societies to learn of the social, economic, and political welfare of those who must exist under this system.

The meeting next Monday will be held at the home of Mrs. George F. Kaufman, Washington Avenue. Dr. Dale B. Lake of the Ulster County Community College will be the guest speaker. Each member has been requested to bring a guest.

Methodist Church Trustees Board Names President

The Board of Trustees of Saugerties Methodist Church, elected Milton Armstrong, president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lewis Fellows.

Raymond Quackenbush was elected vice president. Committee members were appointed to survey property repairs and insurance policies.

This past summer the parish house was painted, floors in the chapel and Sunday school room sanded, varnished, and waxed, and the Gethsemane Memorial

SAUGERTIES GOP TOWN CANDIDATE

PETER M. WILLIAMS

A dedicated public servant, Peter M. Williams, who has given more than 14 of his most productive years to the office of Saugerties town supervisor, is the Republican candidate to succeed himself in the November 5 election.

He has ably guided the township during its greatest expansion in history. New situations requiring the utmost in clear thinking and good sound judgment, and decisions that never before had to be made by any administrator of the township, were effectively handled by Supervisor Williams. During those most trying times, he has always upheld the high integrity of his office.

The establishment of new industries in the township is no accident. Industries seeking new sites look for townships which are operated economically and those who maintain a fair tax rate.

Supervisor Williams' policies and economies has made the township attractive to industry. This has been done without subsidies or promises of preferential treatment and has cost the taxpayer nothing.

A noted champion of local veterans, Supervisor Williams manages to squeeze into his busy schedule time to aid and comfort the ex-serviceman and his family. He is often called upon to head campaigns of benevolence and has given his services to further the youth organizations of the community.

A man of great political stature in Ulster County, he is known for his loyalty to his constituents in the township and is constantly alert to their needs.

His decisions are always governed by his political creed: "To handle all matters in the most efficient manner to benefit the greatest number of people."

window was repaired and storm sash installed.

Sunday evening, the Rev. Leon Kofod of Woodmere, L. I., world traveler and photographer, entertained a large gathering of children and adults at a Family Missions Festival. He showed many artifacts and curios from India before supper and then captivated his audience with color slides which he took while traveling in India, telling of his personal experiences with Gandhi.

Friends of the late Mrs. Doris Mason are reminded of a Memorial Service to be held at the church on Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Jane Tonnesen will be organist and Lewis Gaylord soloist.

Letters, a copy of the new budget, and pledge cards will be sent to all members of the church this week. Pledge Sunday is Nov. 10, when Col. John P. Fellows will preach and baptize his grandchild at the service of worship. Pledges will be dedicated at the altar.

Supervisor Williams' policies and economies has made the township attractive to industry. This has been done without subsidies or promises of preferential treatment and has cost the taxpayer nothing.

A noted champion of local veterans, Supervisor Williams manages to squeeze into his busy schedule time to aid and comfort the ex-serviceman and his family. He is often called upon to head campaigns of benevolence and has given his services to further the youth organizations of the community.

A man of great political stature in Ulster County, he is known for his loyalty to his constituents in the township and is constantly alert to their needs.

His decisions are always governed by his political creed: "To handle all matters in the most efficient manner to benefit the greatest number of people."

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The advent of a new cartoon feature—always a major occasion for lovers of the art of animation—prompted some reflections by Walt Disney.

The parent of Mickey Mouse, Snow White, et al, is offering as his Christmas gift to the nation, "The Sword in the Stone," a fable of the early years of King Arthur. It is a rollicking tale, occupying a mere 79 minutes on the screen.

It took three years and a shade under $3 million to produce.

"A lot of people ask me why I don't make more cartoon features," the head man mused. "Well, they are tricky things. Many other outfits have tried to make them, but none have succeeded."

"The cartoon features tie up a lot of people and take a great deal of time. That means money. 'Sleeping Beauty' cost $4.5 million—because we decided to use the big screen and had to fill in all that space with drawing. '101 Dalmatians' was not as high—$3.5 million."

"Dalmatians" was a hit. "Sleeping Beauty" was only a fair success. Walt's analysis gives a hint of the Disney genius.

"The dog picture was about animals and people," he observed, "while 'Sleeping Beauty' was a pageant. I'm always trying to reach people in the heart to give them real emotion. Some of the boys around here fight me on it."

After "The Sword in the Stone," what?

The Disney artists are already well into a treatment of Kipling's "Jungle Book." The studio is preparing a "Winnie the Pooh" cartoon which may develop into a feature.

IT JUST GREW—The first permanent income tax was levied just 50 years ago, making life a bit more complicated for 425,000 citizens whose incomes were affected. Today, nearly everyone pays income tax. In 1913, the top tax was 6 per cent on individuals (91 per cent today) and 1 per cent on corporations (52 per cent today). That year federal income from all taxes was $344 million, with the income tax representing a mere $35 million of that. Newschart shows that things have changed somewhat. In 1962, federal tax collections were $99.4 billion, with income tax accounting for $77.5 billion. Data from Commerce Clearing House.

School Custodian Cleared $53,000, Tops Wagner Pay

NEW YORK (AP)—A Board of Education official says he was "shocked" to learn that one of the city's 850 school custodians cleared $53,000 in the past year.

This is $13,000 more than the salary of Superintendent of Schools Calvin E. Gross and $3,000 more than the salary of Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The official, Eugene E. Hult, the Board's building chief, identified the custodian Tuesday night as D. Paul Bishop, custodian-engineer of Bushwick High School in Brooklyn.

Custodians—unlike other school employees—are not on the city payroll. They are paid lump sums, from which they pay their own help and pocket what is left.

Bishop's income was reported at $43,695 when an inquiry into custodians' earnings was revealed recently. Hult said an investigation in the last few days turned up an unsuspected windfall of nearly $10,000 for Bishop last summer.

The windfall came, Hult said, as the result of the opening of a swimming pool and a seven-day-a-week recreation program at the school.

MIGHTY LIKE A DAM—A Saturn V booster test stand takes shape at the NASA-Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., where the gigantic moon capsule boosters are built and tested. The concrete pillars are nearly 150 feet tall; another 100 feet of superstructure will go on top of them. A derrick on the very top will make the total height of the structure 405 feet. Section that resembles the spillway of a dam is a flame deflector to channel the rocket's exhaust.

North had a mighty good hand and became really exuberant when his partner responded one spade to his opening club bid. As a result South found himself in six spades before he had a chance to catch his breath.

West opened the king of hearts and shifted to a low diamond. South won in dummy and led the queen of spades. East played the seven spot and after a little thought South went up with the ace and lost his slam.

South made the usual complaint about bad luck, but North seemed to think that South had taken the wrong play. North was correct. When you hold a 10-card suit you should finesse for the king.

This isn't anything brand new or world-shaking. I imagine that several million bridge players know this, but I wonder if any of them know just how much better the finesse is than the drop.

Here are the exact figures from "Oswald Jacoby on Gambling": 37 per cent of the time the king will be guarded in back of the ace and no play will work. 13 per cent of the time the king will be singleton in back of the ace and the drop will work and the finesse will lose. 13 per cent of the time the king will be singleton in front of the ace and either play will win. 37 per cent of the time the king will be guarded in front of the ace and the finesse will work and the drop won't.

It is not known exactly which is the world's longest river: the Nile, the Amazon, or the Mississippi-Missouri. The last was once taken to be the longest, but Army engineers now give its total length as 3,891 mi. Both the Amazon and the Nile are thought to be over 4,000 mi. Uncertainty comes about because of measuring these rivers on maps of small scale.

Thus the finesse works half the time exactly as you would expect. The drop play works 26 per cent, or only about one quarter of the time and is really inferior.

Saugerties Seeks 30th Straight, Hosts Roosevelt Saturday

KHS Is Idle; Wallkill Visits Rondout Valley

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

While Kingston players try to recover their composure before meeting Middletown on Nov. 9 at Dietz stadium, Saugerties gridders aim for their 30th consecutive victory Saturday as they host Roosevelt in a DCSL encounter.

This week's card is a slim one. The big game in the UCAL is at Rondout Valley where the Gridders host undefeated Wallkill.

Other UCAL games find Onteora at New Paltz, Marlboro at Liberty and Pine Bush against Highland at Dietz stadium.

The other DCSL contests have Arlington at Cardinal Farley and Wappingers against Lourdes at Riverview field.

In non-league action, Middletown is home against Lindenhurst of Long Island and Beacon is at Poughkeepsie.

Coach Fred Seither's Saugerties gridders overcame a big obstacle in their winning streak when they flattened Albany Academy last week. Roosevelt is tough but the Presidents are big and they have improved over their play of other years.

Tied Beacon

Just two weeks ago the Presidents surprised and deadlocked Beacon, 21-21. Their overall mark shows wins over Lourdes (14-0), Valley Central (21-6) and Cardinal Farley (13-0). Setbacks have been administered by Wappingers (20-12), Arlington (41-7). Aside from the Arlington game, the team has look good, especially on offense.

Aside from the usual bruises, the Sawyers came out of the Albany contest in good shape. Though he's not admitting it publicly, Seither is no doubt pleased with the way his boys took charge of the home side in the second half.

The coach is hopeful that the Sawyers don't disregard the Roosevelt club completely and look towards the Beacon game the following week. Roosevelt showed it can be up for a game and do a good job. Our boys can't afford to let up," he said.

In the UCAL, Rondout Valley has to beat Wallkill to remain mathematically alive in the race. Coach Jack Higgins has his club in high gear, as evidenced by its 40-0 rout of Highland last Saturday.

Needed Breaks

Though Rondout was beaten, 25-0, by Liberty, the Ganders were in the game until the very end. A break or two in the right places might have changed the final outcome.

Liberty, tied with Wallkill for first place, should have little trouble with visiting Marlboro. You can see the Indians will be rooting for Rondout to pull an upset out of the bag.

Aside from the non-league skirmishes at Poughkeepsie and Middletown, the DUSO league clubs will have the week off. Port Jervis and Newburgh don't oppose each other until Nov. 16 and that game should decide the title.

Trabert Quits Pro Tennis Tour

PARIS (AP) — Tony Trabert today cleaned out his desk, buttoned up his memories and turned his back on competitive tennis.

For the past 10 years, Tony's life has been devoted to playing, winning and promoting tennis tournaments. Now he's turning to business.

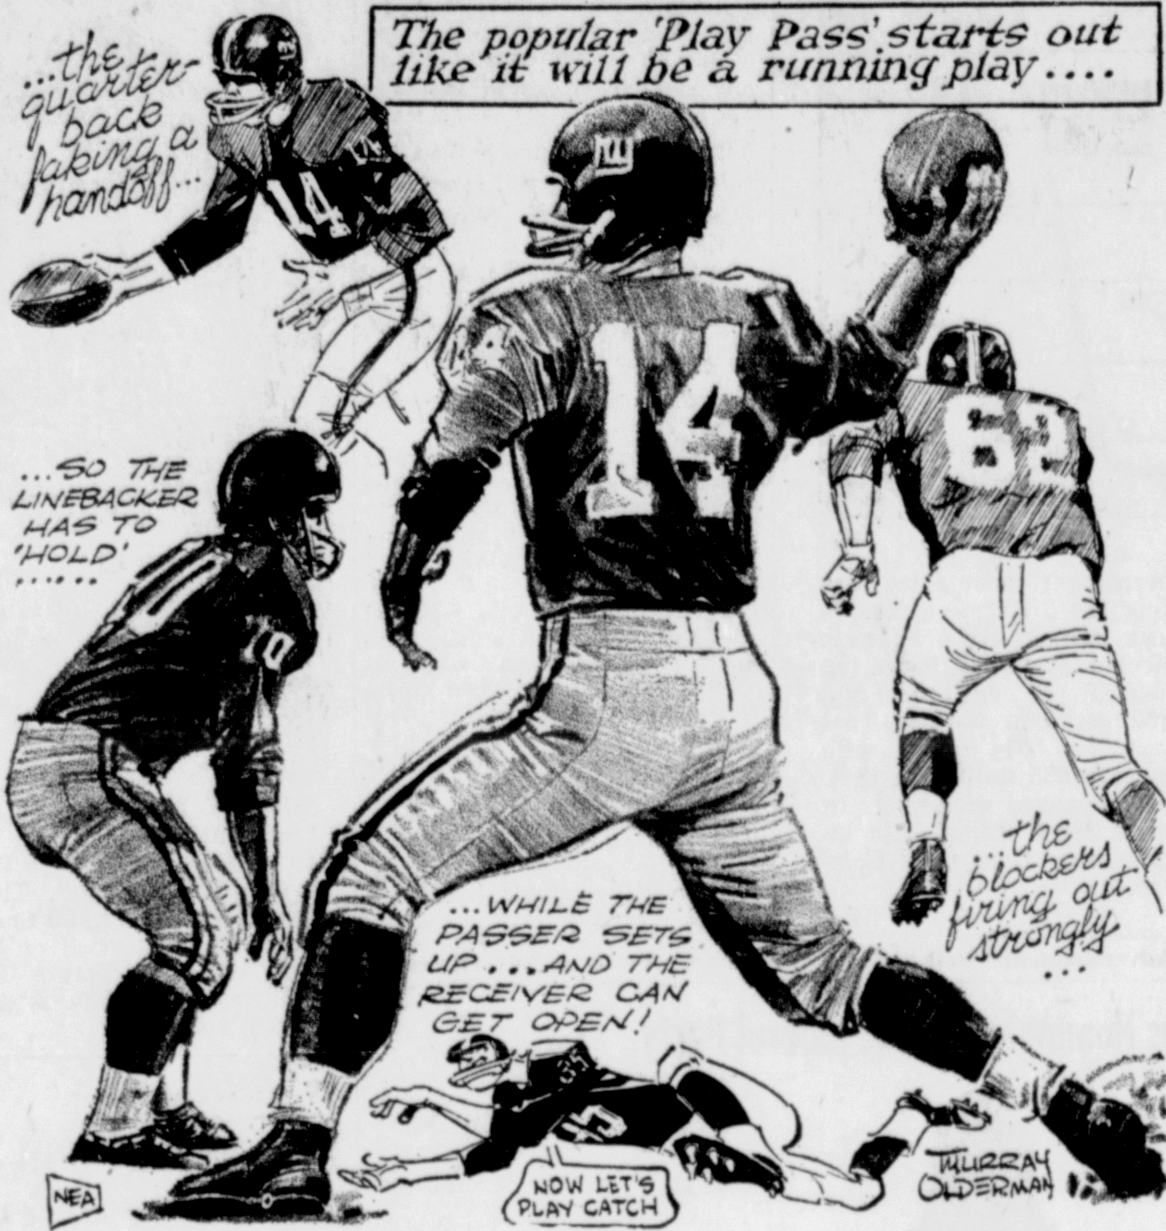

After coming out of the Navy in 1953, Trabert won the United States singles championship twice, Wimbledon once and the French title twice. Then he turned professional in 1955. For the past year he has been executive director of the International Professional Tennis Players' Association, acting as impresario and promoter for the pro tour.

By next week, Trabert will be in Los Angeles to take charge of the branch of a Cincinnati-based firm making men's and women's hosiery.

Tony admitted that there were other considerations than money in making his decision. "I've lost the desire to work at training so I could play in the tournaments," he said. "And if I'm going to organize the tour, I don't really have the time to play. All the glamor has gone out of traveling for me and I've had to spend so much time away from home that family life is bound to suffer. Our children are getting to school age and I think I owe it to them to get settled in one place."

SHS Grid Banquet Scheduled Nov. 14

Thursday, Nov. 14 has been set as the date for the fourth annual Saugerties High football banquet. The event, sponsored each year by the Saugerties Jaycees, will be held at the Flamingo Restaurant beginning at 7 o'clock.

Chairman Vic Fox said that a member of the New York Giant football team will be guest speaker. Aiding Fox on the committee are Lance Johnson, Wayne Kluck and Frank Antalek.

Tickets for the event are on a limited basis and may be purchased from committee members.

In addition to the SHS grid team, which has now won 29 straight games, the cheerleaders, under the able direction of Miss Virginia Reime will also be honored.

Giants' Play Against Browns Was Best Ever, Says Sherman

NEW YORK (AP)—This won't be news in Cleveland. They know it already. But the rest of you may be interested to know that Allie Sherman thinks his New York Giants played their best game ever, under him, when they thumped the Browns last Sunday. In fact, they made only three mechanical mistakes.

Sherman seldom sounds off despite his facetious prediction of a 42-7 victory that somehow got into the papers last week. He is a well-played-one-at-a-time coach. Next week's opponent always is toughest.

"The Cleveland game was the best overall game that any of our clubs ever played," said Sherman. When he said "our" he meant in his three seasons as head coach.

Review Films

"We have gone over the films and found just two mechanical mistakes on defense. It would be very nice to achieve that every Sunday. On offense we found one mechanical mistake."

We established, and were able to stay with, our over-all concept."

Sherman had a word, too, for the more emotionally inclined fans who credited the victory to inspiration. Sorry, folks, it isn't so.

"You don't win games in the National Football League — where they play the best football in the world — on inspiration alone," said Sherman. "To the contrary, we went in coldly, very realistically. We knew what we had to do and we did it and hit hard and moved hard."

Tied with St. Louis for second place, one game behind Cleveland, in the Eastern Conference, Sherman is inclined to rate the Cardinal game this Sunday as important as the Cleveland game.

"It is not beyond reason to feel that in three or four weeks the whole division could be scrambled," Sherman said. "St. Louis has established itself as a very solid football club and leads in many statistical depart-

NEW YORK (AP)—They still manufacture pencils with erasers at the top so forget last week's selections—41 right, 14 wrong for .745—and recuperate with picks for the coming week. The season's figures are 226 correct with 79 misses for .741.

Here are the choice for the games ahead:

Texas over Southern Methodist: The 'SMU Mustangs have made great advances, especially on defense, but the Longhorns' Ford and Carlisle are more than they can handle.

Illinois over Purdue: The Purdue defense is stubborn but these Illinois sophomores are a rugged lot when they play at home.

Louisiana State over Mississippi: The revamped LSU backfield came of age in the close struggle with Florida a week ago. The Rebels have had two weeks getting ready for this one.

Air Force over Army: The Cadets have the better record but they never have encountered a passing quarterback on a level with Terry Isaacson.

Southern California over Washington: The Trojans' four B's—Beathard, Brown, Besole and Bane—are functioning again although the Huskies' Junior Coffey may be the game's hero.

Navy over Notre Dame: A year ago these two teams played in a young hurricane. This season's hurricane is Roger Staubach.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: The running of Sherm Lewis and Dewey Lincoln to offset the passing of Harold Brandt.

Princeton over Brown: This is one of the best Princeton teams in recent years.

Auburn over Florida: In this game the home field is the decisive factor.

Ohio State over Iowa: The Buckeyes are stronger and more plentiful.

Syracuse over Pittsburgh: The Panthers haven't recovered from the embarrassment they suffered against Navy last week.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Could be lopsided.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Joe Namath gives the Crimson Tide an edge.

Nebraska over Missouri: The Tiger offense sputters and the Huskers have Dennis Claridge at the controls.

North Carolina State over Virginia: With relative ease.

Lake Placid Optimistic On Getting Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — A Lake Placid promotional group says it is "very optimistic" over the Upstate resort town's chances of playing host to the 1968 Winter Olympics.

Lake Placid boosters expressed that view Tuesday at a news conference at the Overseas Press Club, where they reported on a recent European tour to seek support for Lake Placid's bid.

Roy Kennedy, director of publicity for the Lake Placid Chamber of Commerce, said visits to members of the International Olympic Committee in 25 countries made his group "reasonably sure" of 18 votes on the first ballot of the International Committee on the 1968 winter site.

The preliminary balloting will take place Jan. 28 at Innsbruck, Austria, the day before the 1964 Winter Olympic Games begin there.

Middie Frosh Nip KHS, 6-0

Bill Berthoff picked up a fumble and scampered 52 yards to a second quarter touchdown as the Middletown frosh nipped Kingston, 6-0, yesterday at the winner's field.

Coach John Gilligan's team, a 25-0 loser to the Middies earlier in the season, battled the home side on even terms all the way. Except for the recovered fumble, the Middies didn't have a scoring threat.

Kingston reached the opposition 25 and 18 late in the game but couldn't put across the tying touchdown.

The locals are 3-2 and will close their season next Monday at Newburgh.

Cotton Tops Hank, Wants Title Bout

By BERNIE KENNEDY

Associated Press Sports Writer
FLINT, Mich. (AP)—It may take a while for Eddie Cotton to get a crack at the world light heavyweight championship. But the quiet Seattle fighter will take the title in pieces if he has to.

Cotton, ranked the No. 1 contender to World Boxing Association champion Willie Pastrano, won the Michigan version of the world title with a unanimous decision over sixth-ranked Henry Hank of Detroit Tuesday night.

Cotton has won decisions over highly rated foreign fighters, including Scotland's Chick Caldwell, but has yet to get the fight he wants—with Pastrano.

Cotton, 26, gave away seven years and 2½ pounds to Hank, but used his six-inch reach advantage to keep the Detroit slugger off balance with an effective left jab. Cotton weighed 172½ pounds and Hank 175.

The Seattle puncher, a tool and die maker with an aircraft firm when he's not fighting, admitted Hank hurt him in the ninth round.

"He hit me good, but I didn't let him know it and was able to box out of it," Cotton said. Hank sat dejectedly in his dressing room and talked of quitting the ring.

"When a man fights as good a fight as I did in his home state and loses, then it's about time to quit," he said.

Chemerer also asked that a check for the $4,500 Cotton was guaranteed for the bout be posted. He later backed off on the demand.

Cotton's manager, George Chemerer, had threatened to pull his fighter out of the match after finding out a 90-second rest period would be used between rounds, instead of the usual 60 seconds.

Cotton, of course, would like to fight Pastrano, but it appears a bout with either Germany's Gustav Schultz or Italy's Giulio Ranaldi will be next.

Breaks Are Made

GREEN BAY, Wis. — (NEA) — Green Bay opponents fumbled 13 times in the first five National Football League championship games.

The Packers recovered 12 of those fumbles. They intercepted nine passes. Not included is a block of a Minnesota field goal attempt by Herb Adderley, the one which Hank Gremminger picked up and turned into an 80-yard touchdown play with two minutes left.

Henry Jordan recovered three of the fumbles and tells you it isn't luck.

"When someone breaks through we hang together," says the defensive tackle. "The first man doesn't go for the ball. It's too small a target to shoot for. The first man has to make the tackle. The next defensive man tries to hit hard enough to loosen the ball."

Chicago Tops Montreal, 5-1, Uhl Gets 30 To Pace Tony's

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks are threatening to turn the National Hockey League race into a runaway.

Playing with a determination which they hope will offset last season's late collapse, the Hawks have lost only one of their first nine games and pulled into a six-point lead over Toronto and Montreal with an effortless 5-1 victory over Detroit Tuesday night. A crowd of 13,987 came out to watch Gordie Howe, Detroit's big right wing, attempt to break the NHL scoring record of 544 goals he now shares with Maurice Richard.

Howe failed to score but the fans saw Ken Wharram, Chicago's little right wing, turn in his first major league hat trick. The only other three goal performance this season was scored by Chicago's Stan Mikita.

Five Home Wins

The Hawks have played five games at home, winning them all. On the road they have one victory, one loss and two ties. Coach Billy Reay has the club playing aggressive hockey and every man appears to be in top physical condition.

Despite having such stars as Bobby Hull and Mikita, the club is thriving on balance. Wharram and Ab McDonald are among the league's leading scorers with Mikita and Hull.

"Everybody is putting out and all the guys are working well," said Reay, who was named to replace Rudy Pilous after the Hawks flopped at the end of the 1962-63 campaign to finish second to Toronto.

"By February," said one Hawk player, "we'll be so far out in front nobody will be able to catch us."

Wharram was the center of attention after the Detroit victory as he went through the motions of explaining his three goals. He put the Hawks ahead with two quick goals within one minute midway in the first period.

Al MacNeil and Jack McKenzie boosted the lead to 4-0 before Wharram completed his hat trick in the third period. Wharram then went to the penalty box for tripping and Detroit's Norm Ullman spoiled Glenn Hall's shutout bid with a power play goal.

Colgate End Is Hurt, Will Miss Yale Game

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Colgate's football team will be without the services of end Chris Lomas for at least a week. Red Raider coach Hal Lahar said Tuesday that Lomas, the team's leading pass catcher, will be sidelined as a result of a leg injury suffered in last week-end's game against Yale.

Lomas will be replaced by Mike Kasprzak, a junior from Melrose, Mass., Lahar said.

Pitt Coach Stays With Quarterback

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Refusing to let one defeat upset him Coach John Michelosen of Pitt will continue junior Fred Mazurek as starting quarterback in Saturday's football game with fast-rising Syracuse.

Mazurek, the primary force in sparking Pitt to its best start in 15 years, experienced his worst game in last Saturday's 24-12 loss to Navy, the Panthers' first after four victories.

Interception of two of his seven passes led to two Navy scores and his fumble halted a Pitt drive. There had been talk that sophomore Ken Lucas, who tossed two touchdown passes in the game, would replace Mazurek.

Syracuse, which has one loss in six games, will put up a stiff defense in hopes of forcing the Panthers to commit more mistakes.

Since allowing Boston College 21 points in the opener, the Orangemen have given up just 25 points while averaging more than three touchdowns a game.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl potted 30 points to lead Tony's Pizzeria to an 83-63 triumph over Byrne Chevrolet in a YMCA A division league game last night.

The winners broke loose from 37-31 halftime deficit and outscored Byrne, 52-26, in the second half.

KWBA Tourney at New Paltz

Annual Event Set Weekends of March 7-8, 14-15

College Lanes at New Paltz will be the site of the annual Kingston Women's Bowling Assn. tournament for the 1963-64 season.

The KWBA Board of Directors, by a vote of 19-5, selected the new lanes at New Paltz. The tourney will be held the weekends of March 7 and 8 and March 14 and 15.

There will be three classes. Class A teams will be those with averages of 750 or better. Class B teams will be from 626 to 749 and Class C team for those 625 and under.

Class A doubles will be for those with a combined average of 300 and up. Class B will be for those from 251 to 298 and Class C for 250 and under.

Class A single will be for bowlers with an average of 150 or better. Class B will be for those with 126 to 149 and Class C for those 125 and under.

Deadline for entries will be Feb. 16, 1964 and the highest average as of Dec. 29 of this year will be used.

The first open meeting of the KWBA was held Monday at the Gov. Clinton Hotel. The meeting was preceded by an executive board meeting.

Recommendation for revision of several of the City Assn. rules were approved. Delegates elected to attend the state tournament in Jamestown are Betty Halversen, Betty Phillips, Ethel Howard and Nell Alverson.

Memphis State Back Is Voted Best of Week

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Associated Press Back of the Week accepted the admiration of all today but didn't seem especially impressed with his performance.

"Actually I haven't had a real outstanding ball game yet," said Russell Vollmer, the brilliant quarterback who engineered Memphis State's 17-10 football triumph over Mississippi State Saturday night.

But Vollmer's trim 6-foot, 190 pound form dominated the storybook game marked by madness and melodrama. He ran back the opening kickoff 78 yards to set up Memphis State's first score. Later in the first quarter on another Tiger drive, he was knocked completely off the field and had to be rushed to a hospital for examination.

Mississippi State slowly moved ahead and Memphis State fans were telling themselves the game was lost when they noticed battered No. 12 jog onto the field during the second half. They screamed for their hero and he gave them what they wanted as he directed the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

When told of being chosen Back of the Week, Vollmer grinned and said, "I didn't think I'd ever get an honor like this." He even looked a little embarrassed.

Other backfield standouts over the weekend were Sherm Lewis of Michigan State, Jim Grisham of Oklahoma, Don Trull of Baylor, Steve Thurlow of Stanford, Pete Liske of Penn State, Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, Billy Lofthridge of Georgia Tech, Tony Crosby of Texas, Gayle Sayers of Kansas, Roger Staubach of Navy, and Ken Hatfield of Arkansas.

Doran's, Corner Rest Win Games

Doran's nipped the 50 Club, 60-58, and Corner Rest walloped Eddie's Country Fair, 63-50, in YMCA B League games last night.

Rich Nagel hit 22 points and Dan Levy had 20 to lead Doran's. Al Brown's 20 and Bob Smith's 19 paced 50 Club.

The winners came from behind with a 24 point surge in the final period.

Jack Niles led a well-balanced Corner Rest attack with 18 points. Byron Allen rimmed 22 for the losers.

Warmer Air Due by Weekend

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. today through 7 p.m. Monday.

Eastern New York—Cooler at the beginning of the period with a gradual increase in temperatures over the weekend. No significant rain is expected through Monday but a few light showers or snow flurries are possible in the next two days. Forest fire potential will remain high.

Western New York—A return to pleasant fall weather is expected through early next week with temperatures averaging near or a few degrees above the normals with gradually warmer days but generally cool nights. Precipitation will average less than one-tenth of an inch as widely scattered showers Thursday night and again Saturday night.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs in upper 40s and 50s, nighttime lows in 30s.

INTENT ON OPERATION—Three aspiring Halloween artists are intent on creating "pumpkin heads" on the windows of an up-town store as part of the contest being sponsored this year by the Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association. Students from Kingston Consolidated School District and local parochial schools decorated windows on Wall, Fair and North Front Streets.

November Art Exhibits Listed

PHOENICIA — The Phoenicia Library announces the art exhibits will hang in the library during the month of November.

Walter Baetz of Fox Hollow has been the moving force behind the art shows at the Library in the past eight months. Only now, by special invitation by the library board, has he consented to hang a family show.

An exhibition of Jessie Baetz' work will open Nov. 2, to run for two weeks. It will be followed by Walter Baetz' own show. In connection with this occasion, the library trustees and the art committee wish to express great appreciation to Mr. Baetz for his service to the Library and to the Community.

Chief Justice Is Target of Pickets

NEW YORK (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren was bombarded Tuesday night by leaflets and placards hurled by pickets protesting U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

"Thank goodness we live in a country where that can be done," Warren commented after the incident. "It can be done whether people feel that way about it or are paid to do it."

The incident occurred after Warren left a dinner meeting of the Bar Association of the City of New York where he was made an honorary member. Some leaflets struck Warren but the placards missed. No one was arrested.

Walter Zaleski of Brooklyn, a spokesman for the 75 pickets, said they were trying to point up the activities of the Supreme Court since Warren was appointed chief justice in 1953. Zaleski said the court's decisions have helped "to erode our freedoms."

Dave Sarette holds the Syracuse University record for most touchdowns passes thrown. He connected for 15 scores in three seasons between 1959 and 1961.

President Going To Philly for $100-Plate Meal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President Kennedy comes to Philadelphia tonight for a $250-a-person reception and a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner to bolster the campaign of Democratic Mayor James H. Tate.

Tate is seeking a full four-year term against Republican James T. McDermott in the general election next Tuesday.

Kennedy's appearance is expected to draw 4,000 at the dinner. It is billed as strictly political. Newspeople have been barred from the reception.

Kennedy is scheduled to arrive at 5 p.m. (EST) and return to Washington after the 9 p.m. dinner.

First baseman Norm Siebern led the Kansas City Athletics in homers last season with 16, one more than third baseman Ed Charles.
